NEW TEST FOR TUBERCULOSIS AIDS DOCTORS

Dr. Wasserman Tells of Method.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, March 12.—(Tribune Foreign News Service.)

The new Wasserman test for the diagnosis of tuberculosis is not a specific cure for the disease, but its sponsor hopes it will lead to greater progress in the fight against the international enemy of health.

He believes it is great in value in that it enables physicians to detect the presence of active tuberculosis before it enters the pulmonary stage and makes it possible for them to begin active measures for a cure while the patient is still equipped with a strong body to fight the disease.

Credits Yanks and French.

Dr. August von Wasserman, to whom the world owes much for his work in the detection of disease, is the most modest of men. He gives all credit for his newest progress—he insists it is not a discovery—to American and French physicians, whose groundwork enabled his discovery of a reactive composition, which seems destined to prove the most important aid placed at the disposal of physicians in their fight against tuberculosis since the international organization began its efforts.

"Works must speak for the workmen, not the workmen for the works," said Dr. Wasserman.

"I am not a politician, or a diplomat," said Dr. Wasserman, changing the conversation from the Ruhr occupation to science. "When nearly everything in the world that is cherished is destroyed we must work to make some 'reparation.' The health of the world has suffered more than anything else in recent years. Tuberculosis is our greatest enemy.

"United States Leads in Fight."

"Tuberculosis has vastly increased in Germany since the war.

"In the fight against this evil the United States easily takes first rank."

"The principal necessity in the fight against tuberculosis is an accurate diagnosis at the time of the first infection. This generally is during childhood. For example, in recent tests in Berlin we discovered 50 per cent of the cases began active, developing to pulmonary tuberculosis. When children enter the age of puberty or go to work in offices or workshops the disease makes its active appearance and is hard to combat, with a danger of its developing later into lung disease.

"Pulse Necessary Reactive Agent."

"During recent years great progress has been made in making diagnosis both in the United States and France. My recent work was not a discovery, but my only progress is that I have found a physico-chemical composition of the reactiveness necessary to get a sound which makes mistakes impossible. Therefore the reactive gave positive results when syphilis and not tuberculosis was present. This conclusion now is overcome by a new reactive agency, which gives positive results only when tuberculosis is actually present.

"The most important possibility of the new progress—I will not call it a discovery—is that with the composition of this new reactive I have found the way to further improvement by the world's leading experts. This work, I trust, is only a beginning, to which others will add further improvements."

"Fight While Body Is Strong."

"Will this policy of accurate diagnosis before the disease is advanced make possible a 100 per cent cure?" I asked.

"I am not a practical doctor and can only say that when I can treat a child with greater energy than when I can only give active tuberculosis is perhaps present. When I know positively the disease is there I can fight while the body is still strong. I can outline the future activities of the child, and can take preventive steps which may mean progress in the international fight against the disease."

Dr. Wasserman arrived at the conclusion of the new reactive only after exhaustive tests. During his studies he examined 500 serums before finding one which answered the requirements—reaction against active tuberculosis only. He says the reactive was characterized by a substance of tuberculosis bacilli in absorption with lactin. The blood of animals and men infected with active tuberculosis gives a reaction with the composition, which remains inactive before all other disease germs.

Before announcing the results Dr. Wasserman conducted extensive tests on the blood of men being examined by the insurance companies for workmen's insurance.

"KING" OF GARY'S ITALIAN COLONY SLAIN ON STREET

Gary, Ind., March 12.—[Special.]—Gaspard Monti, "king" of Gary's Italian colony, and alleged leader of the local "Black Hand" society, was shot to death on the street this afternoon by two men. Saved off shotguns were used.

Monti was one of seventy-five Gary and Lake county officials and citizens indicted recently by a federal grand jury at Indianapolis, charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. It is alleged that these seventy-five constituted a great liquor importing and selling ring.

Assassination of Monti marked the second death in the Gary vendetta inside of a week. Tony Cusani, having been shot down in his soft drink parlor. A half dozen attempts have been made to kill Monti in the last year. He only recently recovered from a bullet wound which he claimed was accidental. Police believe the same vendetta that killed Cucinella shot down Monti.

MORGUE PETTING PARTIES STORIES RESULT IN SUIT

Tales of petting parties in a morgue, hilarious wine parties in a mortuary chapel, and tea-danants in an embalming room, said to have been told by Richard A. Mrs. Zimmerman, according to her attorney, Hugh R. Porter, until recently was associated with Allen in the undertaking business, as was her husband, Frank Zimmerman. The latter, after a contract, shared the profits of the business with Allen. Eager to oust Zimmerman, Allen, it is charged, hid upon the plan of attacking Mrs. Zimmerman's reputation, as a means to force the couple to leave.

YOUTHS SING HYMN AS ICE BEARS THEM TO CERTAIN DEATH

Omaha, Neb., March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—Floating on an ice cake in the Missouri river to certain death, with the banks lined by friends unable to avert the tragedy, two Iowa boys last night chose as their farewell messages the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee."

For hours the young men, Harvey McIntosh, 30, and his brother, Tom, 26, of Mondamin, Ia., had been marooned on a sandbar in the Missouri river, following a sudden rise of the river that swept away their boat. All attempts to send aid to them failed owing to a heavy flow of ice.

"We have caught an ice cake," they shouted shortly after midnight.

And then out of the darkness of the river came the strains of the hymn that grew fainter and fainter.

BELGIUM JOINS FRENCH PLEDGE ON SEIZED AREA

20,000 More Troops to Help Take Coal.

BERLIN, March 12.—(United News.)—Two Germans were shot to death by French soldiers following a trial before a court martial, according to reports received here today from Buer.

Additional riots between French and Germans in the Ruhr occurred at midnight tonight.

Another German civilian was shot at Buer. The French commander released one hostage with the message that he will shoot the burgomaster immediately if any more Frenchmen are attacked.

At Herdige, near Hagen, French fired into a crowd and wounded many.

BRUSSELS, March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—The French and Belgians, by declaring this afternoon that they are ready, when Germany begins payment to evacuate the Ruhr and the territory occupied on the right bank of the Rhine, believe they have dealt a big blow to German propaganda, entirely contravening the German statement that they were actuated purely by political motives in occupying the district.

The formal declaration given out in the form of a communiqué following the conference of Premiers Poincaré and Thénis said:

"The two governments [the French and the Belgian] are again in common accord not to accept simple promises from Germany concerning the evacuation of the Ruhr and the territories recently occupied on the right bank of the Rhine, but such evacuation will be carried out gradually, following the execution by Germany of her reparations obligations."

No Mention of Rhineland.

It was noted in some quarters that no mention was made of the Rhineland in the statement.

As regards the evacuation, it is pointed out that the same principle is applied as when the Germans evacuated French territory after the Franco-Prussian war, the troops withdrawing being carried out progressively as the French paid the indemnity.

The Franco-Belgians say: "What 'P. and A. Photo.' we want now from Germany is action, not promises."

Thyssen Renews Peace Suggestion.

LONDON, March 12.—The Duesseidort correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the desire of the Ruhr iron and coal magnates to negotiate with the French was voiced with significant emphasis today by Fritz Thyssen in the course of an interview.

"Herr Thyssen," says the correspondent, "renewed his suggestion of several weeks ago that a foreign loan would be the most satisfactory method of meeting the French demands. Admitting that Germany must pay, he suggested the appointment of a commission to decide the total liabilities and to arrange for the totality of a loan, either in Great Britain or America, with the German export trade as a guarantee."

"France could hold the left bank of the Rhine as a pledge, quitting the Ruhr and leaving the Germans free to fulfill their obligations."

Washington's Big Names on Bootleg List

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—Publication of a list of names and addresses of officers high in the army and navy, officials of the state department, and citizens of the capital prominent in business and society, which were found in the books of a bootlegger whose premises were raided last week, created a great stir here today.

Heads of the state, war, and navy departments were aroused by the publication of the list, and persons of prominence whose names were published were in arms. A Washington newspaper, in printing the list, made no charge that the persons enumerated were patrons of the bootlegger.

It merely stated that the list was found among the papers in the premises occupied by Joseph E. Coghors, whose apartment in a fashionable section of the city was raided on March 3. A large stock of liquors was confiscated.

Titles of Those on List.

Four admirals, four generals, scores of colonels, majors, captains, and officers of lower rank in the army, as well as commanders and captains in the navy and some of the most prominent citizens of Washington, many of them women, were enumerated in the list. Addresses as well as names appeared.

Among those whose names appeared in the published list were the following army officers: Gen. Latimer, Gen. Marshall, Gen. W. F. Hixson, Gen. Kane, Col. Ashton, Barnes, Blunt, Barnhart, Burrow, Cruikshanks, Dalton, Embick, Echeberg, Erwin, Evans, Foy, Gerly, Jewett, Looney, Lindsey, Lynch, Moses, Major, McCord, Maja, Buckley, Briggs, Boutel, Bergano, Evans, Tustan, Hughes, Hobson, Maddox, and others.

Among naval officers on the list are Rear Admiral Dyson, Rear Admiral Johnson, Rear Admiral Kees, Rear Admiral McVey, Commanders Bruce L. Charlton, Cecil A. H. Drexel, Delano, Downer, Hines, Keppeler, Lyttle, and Mayo. In each case either the home address or Army and Navy club was given.

The Diplomatic Corps.

Among the names of those connected with the state or diplomatic service on the list there appeared:

Mr. Bliss, 1785 Massachusetts avenue, N. W. (Robert Woods Bliss, former assistant secretary of state, minister-designate to Sweden, lives at this address.)

Mr. Bell, room 279 state department. (Edward Bell was former chief of the division of current information at this address. He is now counselor of legation at Peking.)

Mr. Cook, 1410 M street. (Charles Lee Cooke, ceremonial officer of the department of state, lives at this address.)

Leading Citizens Included.

Among prominent civilians in the list were Montgomery Blair, banker; H. W. Bolling, King Cornwell, merchant; J. Maury Dove Jr., merchant; Randall Haggen, physician; and Marshall Langhorne, brother of Lady Astor.

The list was published alphabetically and was cut off with the letter "R." Up to "R" the list was more than two newspaper columns long. Tonight it was learned that scores of telegrams from persons whose surnames range below the letter "R" in the alphabet had telegraphed to the owner of the newspaper, beseeching him to omit their names if they appear in the list yet to be published.

Concerning other banks in the city, Mr. Savage said there was absolutely no cause for worry. No other bank is now under investigation in connection with the Logan Square collapse, he declared, and public confidence in banks is urged and approved by him.

Mr. Savage has been in communication with Wiedemann, he said, which disposes of the talk that Wiedemann had been missing. Attorney Edward O'Brien, who was present in Mr. Savage's office, volunteered to bring reporters to Wiedemann, and did so.

Wiedemann Meets Reporters.

"Perhaps I am technically liable for three notes which are in the bank," Wiedemann said, "but there was no wrong motive in back of the transactions. For instance, this is one of them."

"A private concern in which I was interested, the Self-Seating Valve company, had a loan from our bank. The company was a failure, and though I was not legally liable for the loan I believed I was morally and, as my fellow directors I would see that it was made good."

"Myself and two others were to give our notes to the Logan Square bank. One of these men was out of town, and the directors were pressing me, and I signed this note to assume the liability myself until he could do so himself. I felt able to do so then, and it is now so arranged that the bank will lose nothing on this loan, which was for $10,000. Neither will it lose on two

LOGAN SQUARE VICE PRESIDENT BARES FORGERY

Confessing that he committed "technical forgery" in his relations with the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank, David Wiedemann Jr., vice president of the institution which has been closed since the suicide last Friday of Fred W. Popp, its president, made a complete statement last night in an endeavor to help clear up the situation.

Stock speculation and unfortunate investments are blamed for the failure of the bank. And to these items are added the rumors that have been flying about the Logan Square district connecting the name of Popp with various women. Claire Hellman was one of these. She disappeared yesterday. June Bacon is another. She remains in the much advertised "love bungalow."

"Confesses" to Forgery.

Harry S. Savage, chief bank examiner, heard statements from various interested persons last night. One of these statements came from Wiedemann, former football hero and youthful financier of many experiences.

That Popp's attention to two or more young women had no bearing on his financial losses was asserted by those who knew the details. He had in middle life developed a penchant for beauty, but did not dissipate his estimated fortune of $250,000 in this manner, it was contended.

For the depositors, Mr. Savage said, there are excellent prospects. They cannot lose much at the worst, he asserted, probably not more than 25 per cent of their accounts, adding that it is probable they will not lose a penny.

Need Only $175,000 Cash.

"To put the bank on an absolutely sound basis approximately $400,000 is needed," Mr. Savage said. "It is in sight and will be a very good investment for the bankers who raise it, in my judgment."

"As $225,000, the capital stock and undivided profits, is available, but $175,000 of new cash is required. That will offset $150,000 in questionable securities the bank now has. Much of this may be absolutely good. The only drawback is that we do not know the value of the paper, and therefore must absolutely eliminate all of it."

"Before the bank was closed we estimated that $250,000 would be sufficient to tide the bank over. It was a going concern then. Taking the capital stock, it left $100,000 to be put up by the directors, but they were unable to raise it on short notice. Now, of course, with the bank closed, its credit is not so good, and more is needed."

other loans in which it may be said that I borrowed the credit of other names, though being only liable myself.

"As to Foster C. Scott, I did not bring him into the bank with the Logan Square bank or any other bank. When I became cashier there in 1919 they had been buying three-fourths of their securities from Scott-Stitt & Co. I just fell into the bank's policy.

"I think that now the bank has only about $150,000 of this stuff which is slow. Even if I were pressed there would be some salvage from this."

Sketches His Career

He scheduled the high lights of his career for the reporters.

"I am 29 years old. I was a captain in the army and when discharged went to the Logan Square bank as cashier. I had about $1,000 then. A few investments and I finally bought some bank stock. I could buy a few shares, borrow on them, and buy more. I came into possession of 340 shares, paying $200 per share. They are listed at $160, but could not be bought for that."

"I now own about $45,000 on them, but at the buying rate had an equity of $20,000, or an equity of $15,000 at the list price. I lost money on private ventures in the last two years and had to borrow."

Covered by Loans

"My buying price equity covered all my loans while the bank was a going concern. Even now I think I will be able to settle all my debts."

"I think the depositors will get 100 cents on the dollar. I am sure the assets will more than cover the deposits when they are liquidated."

The depositors, however, were organizing to protect themselves. Last night seventy-five of them met and called a mass meeting of all the depositors for tonight in the Logan Square theater, 2542 Milwaukee avenue.

Williams Made Receiver.

Appointment of a receiver for the bank was ordered yesterday afternoon by Bank Examiner Savage.

Edward I. Williams, connected with the county recorder's office, was named receiver and commenced the task of untangling the finances of the closed bank.

Officials of the Chicago Clearing House came to the defense of the integrity and soundness of the 123 banks which are in its membership. None of them contains any of the "interim receipts" which are said to have been the largest contributing cause to the closing of the Logan Square bank, which was not a member, the clearing house people said.

State Auditor Andrew Russell said his office some time ago had discovered that several banks were dealing in the interim receipts, and that he had put a stop to it. There is now no Chicago bank in which anything irregular is known, he said. One or two banks in nearby towns, however, are undergoing a process of "house cleaning," according to the auditor.

Statement by Receiver.

Williams issued this statement:

"My appointment as receiver of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank is solely for the purpose of conserving the assets of the bank in accordance with the certificate of appointment. This will not interfere in any manner with the proposed reorganization. In fact, I propose to do all in my power to assist in such reorganization."

State's Attorney Crowe announced that so far he was "standing by" waiting for the state auditors to finish the financial examination before he would examine the bank's records and question officials. Action by him now might interfere with the financial rehabilitation of the bank.

Scott Still Absent.

Foster C. Scott, who is said to be responsible for the floating of the interim receipts, was neither found nor arrested. Directors of the Logan Square bank were outspoken in their declarations that Scott had brought financial distress to them through his dealings with President Popp and Vice President Weidemann.

Earl K. Stitt, former partner of Scott in the brokerage business conducted under the name of Scott & Stitt, said during the day that the bad paper did not get into the various city and country banks through the brokerage firm, but was "worked off" on them by Scott.

Former Judge Frederick R. De Young, president of the First National bank of Harvey, Ill., said that his bank is in "tip-top" shape, that all the Scott-Stitt paper had been removed some time ago. D. Wiedemann Sr., cashier of this bank, is the father of the vice president of the Logan Square bank. In addition, young Wiedemann was until recently a director of the Harvey bank.

Brunette Added to Popp's List of Girl Clients

Auburn Haired Miss and "Bank Pest" Revealed.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Fred Popp sweated and toiled for more than three decades to achieve his rise from mail carrier to president of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank. Long ago he was married and became the head of a respectable family.

Then one day, on a plateau of silence, the short, terse, unassuming man looked around and saw that a girl could be pretty.

Then he looked further.

Just how many pretty girls "gold-dug" their fortunes away into the heart and pocketbook of Logan Square's stern financier, the state's attorney's office is interested in learning as they investigate the incidents that led up to Mr. Popp's suicide Friday morning.

Brunette Turns Up Now.

Thus far Mr. Popp, whose inclination for the society of young women was as acquired a taste as his recent liking for well tailored clothes, is known to have been "just a friend" to at least two girls—an "artist" blonde, Miss June Bacon, 2314 Sunny-side avenue, and Miss Claire E. Heilmann, 2403 North Kedzie boulevard, a plump brunette.

Miss Heilmann is later than Miss Bacon, both in discovery by the authorities and in actual platonic sequence. That the brunette, living with her mother in the Kedzie boulevard flat, may have seduced the blonde who owned the subterranean passage from bungalow to garage, the luxurious boomer appointments, and who had "artistic" aspirations, furnishes speculation as to the reason for the quarrel between the two girls last month.

Still More Girls.

The suggested rivalry between the two offers an explanation, too, for the temporary scene at Miss Heilmann's home the night following the suicide of Popp. It further leads to the names of other young women in the neighborhood, the blonde and the brunette, the talkative blonde who was such "a pest at the bank," and several other girls who may have realized the latent worth of the banker.

Assistant State's Attorney Edgar A. Jones in turning the pages of Mr. Popp's life passes quickly over the heroic pages of copy book material during which the young mail carrier married, worked hard, bought his own business, built his own little cottage, and won success slowly. But the investigation pauses at a page marked about two years ago, when Mr. Popp met Miss Bacon, then in California.

And it pays especial attention to the pages dealing with the friendship for Miss Heilmann.

Miss Heilmann and her mother came to Chicago from South Bend a year ago last October. Mr. Popp, the busy bank president, had by now made it a custom to give personal attention to the business needs of lady clients. He called to offer his advice. He aided them in finding an apartment and recommended them to the landlord.

Miss Heilmann had been assistant in a massage parlor in South Bend. Once established in the Logan square apartment, neither she nor her mother sought any employment. She received numerous calls from Mr. Popp. She grew more and more popular. The neighbors complained to the landlord but were reminded that the community was his headquarters.

56 Cases Heard in Night Court Session Makes New Record

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Chicago's nocturnal court last night had the largest rush of business since its establishment. Judge Peter H. Schwab opened the third week of the court by disposing of fifty-six cases. In comparison, 184 cases were heard in the entire first week. While male riders predominated—the night saw a procession of moonshiners, mooners, and mooners pass before the judge, while domestic quarrels, landlord-tenant controversies, and a poolroom raid or two made up the balance of the docket.

Chief Justice Harry Olson visited the court and was impressed. "It's a greater success than we expected it would be," he said. Judge Olson expects to assign himself to the night bench next week.

Moonshine Muddles Her.

As a high light in the moonshine cases, Mary Klank, 62 years old, an honest looking old soul with gray hair and rosy cheeks, who works at Argmour's in the stockyards, came before the bench late in the session. She spoke no English. Judge Schwab, interrogating her in Polish, found that she had been in jail since Friday night. Her story was that she had helped a friend to move into a new flat, the friend had offered her a cup of something that she tasted, and the incident led up to Mr. Popp's suicide Friday morning.

She knew that she lived in a room somewhere in Archer avenue near the yards, with two trees in front. The court dismissed her with a short lecture, after getting an officer to pilot her to the stockyards, where she could get her bearings.

Gets Time to Sober Up.

William Angsten folded his head on his arms at State and Van Buren street and went to sleep. "Paralyzed with moonshine, your honor," said the policeman.

"Married?" inquired the court.

"Yes, and my wife's a judge, too," said Angsten. "She's a judge of election."

"When were you home last?"

"Early in December, your honor."

"One hundred and costs; that'll give you a chance to straighten out in the bridewell," said the court.

Hothead Cases Increasing.

Terry Atkins, 27 years, a big boy in a one arm restaurant, was brought in on complaint that he persisted in undressing without pulling down the window shades in his room at 24 West Huron street. The court at first was going to send him to the psychopathic research bureau, but instead fined him $100 and costs. Several prisoners were sent to the psychopathic department for observation.

And so it went, with moonshine furnishing most of the cases. And Judge Walker, who visited the court with Justice Olson, reported that 122 cases he heard at the Chicago avenue court yesterday, nearly 100 were moonshine cases. More than $2,000 was imposed in fines, and while some cases that led to his downfall, Swanson told police last night. What ranked most was his inability, on his wage of $60 a month, required every pay day by the two maiden aunts with whom he lived, to take his girl even to a movie. He had to "walk her around the streets," when he went out with her, he said.

He added that he had to arise at 5 o'clock in the morning, start the fires, scrub floors, and do other drudgery.

Young Swanson's father died when he was a baby. His mother, now matron at the St. Mary's Training Schools for Boys in Maywood, married again. Two years ago his stepfather deeded and the boy went to live with his two aunts, the Misses Edith and Myrtle Levin, at 3123 Eastwood avenue.

One of young Swanson's aunts, over the telephone, told detectives that she hoped her nephew would be "severely dealt with." Charles E. Mitchell, president of the bank, said Swanson would be prosecuted, but that "the entire matter of sentence will be left to the court."

460,000 ASK THE REICHSTAG FOR LOCAL OPTION

BERLIN, March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—A petition to dispose of the prohibition question in Germany by local option has been submitted to the reichstag by Dr. O. F. Melle, president of the Methodist Theological seminary at Frankfurt-on-Main. It is signed by 460,000 electors, representing 200 cities and towns.

Dr. Melle said that these signatures were the result of one week's work.

Miss Bacon, fell out. It was just about the time that a letter indicted to "My Own Darling Baby," discovered yesterday, read:

"The Essex salesman was up here today and gave me a demonstration. I told him it was no use to waste his time as he would have to talk to you."

And a little further on: "Glad you had such a nice business yesterday. I don't suppose my letters are very encouraging, either, as all I have been writing about is myself." The letter is signed, "Always, Your Own Baby."

Last Friday night, less than ten hours after Mr. Popp fired the bullet that killed him, there was an impassioned scene at the Heilmann residence. A girl, slight, very blonde, came rushing and banging in the door and pulled down the steps and into a waiting car.

Miss Heilmann Vanishes.

As three men pushed the sobbing girl inside, the chauffeur leaned out and said, "Never mind, I believe you're all right."

Saturday morning early, Miss Heilmann, in great excitement, hurried out with a traveling bag and jumped into a waiting cab. She had not returned last night.

Her mother and sister denied their relationship yesterday, and said she was out of town, they didn't know where.

In contrast to the mysterious way in which the brunette met the official challenge yesterday of her friendship with the dead banker, the blonde made public denial which the blonde made. Point by point and categorically, Miss Bacon denied everything save that "Mr. Popp was a dear friend."

The underground passage from garage to bungalow, was dismissed as a mere convenience in wet weather.

Phone to Girl Traps Boy With Bank's $17,000

Tapped Wire Betrays Him; Blames Drudgery.

Wallace A. Swanson, 17 year old messenger for the Hill State bank, 3224 Lawrence avenue, who disappeared last Wednesday with $17,000 in cash and checks, was arrested in Springfield, Ill., early yesterday. He was brought back to Chicago last night, and is said to have confessed.

The arrest of the youth was the result of the tapping of a telephone wire leading to the home of his sweetheart, Miss Maybelle Krause, 5145 Christiana avenue.

Calls Girl by Phone.

Unable to resist the temptation to talk to the girl, Swanson called her over long distance from the Empire hotel, Springfield, on Sunday. His brief three minutes' conversation was fatal, since he revealed his hiding place to listening Pinkerton operatives.

It was primarily a life of all work and no play that led to his downfall, Swanson told police last night. What ranked most was his inability, on his wage of $60 a month, required every pay day by the two maiden aunts with whom he lived, to take his girl even to a movie. He had to "walk her around the streets," when he went out with her, he said.

He added that he had to arise at 5 o'clock in the morning, start the fires, scrub floors, and do other drudgery.

ATLANTA YOUTH SUES HIS WIFE, CHICAGO WOMAN

Atlanta, Ga., March 12.—Charging that his wife, Mrs. Mary Claire Poole, has been habitually drunk and has treated him cruelly since their marriage in New York on Dec. 1, 1922, Harry G. Poole Jr., 18 year old son of Harry G. Poole Sr., prominent Atlanta business man, filed suit for divorce today.

Mrs. Poole, it is understood in Atlanta, was in a theatrical company when she met young Poole. As soon as the father learned of the marriage he hailed his boy to Atlanta and kept him here secluded from interviewers until the suit was filed.

Mrs. Poole, it is stated, was formerly a resident of Chicago. Poole, at the time of the wedding, was in a preparatory school in New Jersey, preparing to enter Princeton. At the time of the marriage, he asserts in his petition, the bride was about 40 years of age. The divorce petition was filed by Poole through his father and his "next friend."

HOT WATER BAG PUT "LY" IN MISS LYONS' 114° FEVER

Hoax Exposed by Chicago Doctor and Editor.

BULLETIN.

Escanaba, Mich., March 12.—Since the declaration by Chicago specialists that Evelyn Lyons' 114 degree "fever" came from a tiny rubber hot water bag, the girl, who emphatically denies the specialists' charges, late tonight suffered a relapse.

Hysterically she tosses in her bed, crying: "I am sick, I am sick, and no body wants to believe me."

Dr. H. J. Defnet, who has been treating the girl for a number of weeks, announced late tonight that his patient's temperature had reached 104, and that the excitement might result seriously.

A miniature hot water bottle, tired of long confinement in the bed, was slipped around Miss Evelyn Lyons of Escanaba, Mich., poked its head out in the early hours of Sunday morning and announced its presence to the puzzled physicians. The secret was out. The mystery of the amazing temperatures which had been recorded for three weeks was revealed.

For three weeks Escanaba physicians and others had tried, in vain, to find a reason for the unbelievable temperatures which thermometers had shown Miss Lyons to possess. One hundred and sixteen, one hundred and seventeen, one hundred and eighteen they read, and still she lived. Never in the history of medicine had there been such a case. Never had a patient passed 111.5 and survived.

As a matter of fact, Dr. W. A. Evans of THE TRIBUNE solved the mystery, or rather suggested a solution, directly in the heart of the case.

Doc Evans' prescription.

"Hm," he granted, sceptically, when told the details. "Turn her over and spank her. That'll cure her temperature."

Last night Dr. Morris Flahbein of Chicago, who visited Miss Lyons on Sunday, said that if they had only followed Dr. Evans' advice they would have saved themselves a lot of time and trouble.

Miss Lyons apparently managed her hot water bottle most skillfully. Only six inches by four, she could grip it easily in her hand and apply it without detection when and where she wanted. The opportunity she created without causing the least suspicion.

"The noticeable thing about the bottle," said Dr. Harry J. Defnet, city health commissioner and attending physician, "was its color—dark color—the same as that of the girl's night clothing. By this ingenious device she would continue to fool us, although several medical men from Escanaba and several witnesses even now can not understand her trickery."

That Racking Cough!

Apparently Miss Lyons was always in great pain. Holding the bottle in her hand, she would, under pretense of a coughing fit or spasm of agony, remove the thermometer from her mouth for a minute. Before she put it back she had managed, according to Dr. Defnet, to touch it to the bottle, sending the mercury up to amazing heights.

When the thermometer was put under her arm she would adopt the same device. Under cover of her writhings she would wriggle the bottle up to her shoulder so that the bulb of the thermometer rested against it. Again the same abnormal temperature would be recorded.

The first suspicion of trickery was kindled into something more definite on the part of the physicians. When Dr. Morris Flahbein, associate editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, and Dr. R. T. Woodway of the Presbyterian hospital of Chicago visited Miss Lyons on Sunday they came prepared to test the girl's temperature in all ways than in the mouth or under the arm. Unsuspectingly, Miss Lyons permitted them to examine her.

Smart, but Not Smart Enough.

The first readings showed the usual high temperatures. She was using her usual methods of trickery with corresponding results. But at the same time other tests of temperature were being made without her knowledge. Every one showed a practically normal

Proposed Northwestern University Building

A hitherto unpublished view of the proposed Women's Social building at Northwestern university, Evanston, as sketched by Architect James Gamble Rogers. This view is from the south on University place.

Plan Women's Campus

An attractive campus, all its own; a group of buildings, spacious, adequate, and as beautiful as modern architecture can contrive; a fully equipped gymnasium; these are the dreams of the women of Northwestern university. Soon, by means of the campaign they recently opened, they hope to turn their dreams into solid fact.

The project was originally put forward in 1914, but the war intervened and necessitated postponement. Now the plans are well under way again and it is anticipated that actual construction will begin in about a twelve-month. The first buildings to be erected will be the women's building, one open dormitory for the college of liberal arts, one for the school of speech, one for the music school, and several other buildings.

Mr. Candier told the court that he became engaged to Mrs. DeBouchel in January, 1922, and that immediately thereafter she proposed "that they go at once and be married." This, he declined to do.

The answer concedes that "a member" of Mr. Candier's family visited New Orleans to investigate "certain suggestions" regarding Mrs. DeBouchel's conduct, contained in letters from certain people in New Orleans. The answer contends it disposes fully of the charges brought by Mrs. DeBouchel, and asks that her suit be dismissed.

In answer to paragraph 55, "the answer" said, "defendant admits that he made no investigation other than establish the fact that the statements referred to were actually made by a gentleman in Atlanta, and defendant felt that in any event, a marriage thereafter consummated could not be a happy one, as he stated in his letter."

The answer admitted that Mr. Candier wrote Mrs. DeBouchel a letter as stated in her petition, but added "the exact language" of the letter was not quoted.

Mrs. DeBouchel's petition charged that she had received a letter from Mr. Candier breaking off their engagement, after it had been reported to him "from sources he was bound to believe" that two men had visited her during the confederate reunion in Atlanta for improper purposes.

COCA COLA KING FILES REPLY TO LOVE BALM SUIT

Says Beauty Was Unworthy.

Atlanta, Ga., March 12.—Asa G. Candier, millionaire, today filed in the United States District court here an answer to the $500,000 breach of promise suit recently brought against him by Mrs. Onexima DeBouchel, New Orleans beauty.

Mr. Candier told the court that he became engaged to Mrs. DeBouchel in January, 1922, and that immediately thereafter she proposed "that they go at once and be married." This, he declined to do.

The answer concedes that "a member" of Mr. Candier's family visited New Orleans to investigate "certain suggestions" regarding Mrs. DeBouchel's conduct, contained in letters from certain people in New Orleans. The answer contends it disposes fully of the charges brought by Mrs. DeBouchel, and asks that her suit be dismissed.

MILADY SOON TO GO WITHOUT A SINGLE STITCH UPON HER

Milady will literally not have a stitch on her this spring, if she follows the dictates of fashion.

Stitches have become a thing of the past, and the archaic title of "draper" has been revived, its meaning slightly altered, to take the place of "seamstress." There is no sewing, no cutting out, no fitting. The clothes of the woman of 1923 are thrown on her and held in place with artfully concealed pins.

Such was the message broadcast from the annual convention of the Fashion Art League of America, which is in session at the Auditorium and Congress hotels, and to which 2,000 dressmakers have flocked from all over the country.

It is all a matter of silhouette and line, say the modistes. Line expresses personality, and line can best be emphasized by draping not by fitting. More and more are the young business woman and the young matron coming into their own and are relegating the almost forgotten flapper into absolute oblivion. Despite fads, a tendency to switch decoration from front to back, there to convert it into a sublimated bustle, dignity is the keynote of the new modes.

So mandatory is the prevailing style that the more judgmental even look to see the jazz dance and jazz music follow the short skirt. One can't wear the latest and dance jazz. The two do not mix.

The Egyptian influence resuracted from King Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb is felt in all modes of dress, from street suit to lingerie. Scarves and chariots and lotus flowers riot alike on formal gowns and intimate negligee. For colors there are indigo green, and brown, and Egyptian blue.

The show will continue until Thursday, ending with a grand fashion review in the gold room at the Congress hotel.

LEON PRESTON SOUGHT.

Chicago police were yesterday asked to search for Leon Preston of Nashville, Tenn., who disappeared several months ago and whose wife is seriously ill.

"HUGE MILLWORK TRUST" ON TRIAL HERE NEXT WEEK

Sherman Act Broken, City "Held Up," U. S. Claim.

Final preparations for the trial of Andrews Lumber and Mill company and sixty-seven co-defendants for conspiracy to restrain trade by means of the now famous "section 3" of the old three-cornered agreement between millwork manufacturers, contractors and the carpenters' union—the pact through which millions of dollars' worth of millwork was kept out of the Chicago market—were begun yesterday upon the arrival from Washington of Roger Shale, special United States assistant attorney general.

Attorney Shale, one of the government's leading experts on anti-trust matters and a corps of assistants from the capital began putting the last touches upon the case which comes before a jury in Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe's court next week. It is said to be the largest case ever scheduled for trial here under the Sherman act.

From Out Nominus Work.

"Section 3" of the joint agreement between the Carpenter Contractors' association and the executive body of the Chicago council of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, seventeen of whose members are defendants, was operative from June 8, 1918, to May 31, 1921. This section, said to have been sponsored by Chicago lumber and millwork dealers, forbade the use of nonunion made millwork, thereby freezing out of the local market the products of manufacturers at Oakbrook, Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Rock Island, Muscatine, Dubuque, Wausau, and other cities.

With all competition thus barred, Chicago manufacturers were enabled to boost each and drive prices to a point where it is said to have cost the builders and rent payers an additional annual outlay of between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Firms on Trial.

Among the Chicago defendants are the following:

Andrews Lumber and Mill company, R. W. Bartelmann company, Beck Coal company, Lumber company, California Manufacturing company, Chicago and Riverdale Lumber company, Commercial Sash and Door company, A. Dietrich company, Day & Collins, Vincent Dlouhy Sash and Door company, Hartman-Sanders company, Melrose Mill company, William Morris & Sons company, Nollan & Wolf Manufacturing company, C. E. Peterson company, Philip Rinn company, South Side Interior Finish company, Chicago Sash, Door and Blind Manufacturing company, Standard Sash and Door company, Union Interior Finish company, Von Platen and Dick company, and Hardwood Products company.

Union Officials Hit.

The union officials who will be tried are William F. Briggs, Stanley Muszalski, B. J. G. Wittman, Anton Sommers, James Smith, Joseph E. Fox, F. C. Bromley, Joseph Duggan, John Lott, Thomas F. Flynn, W. G. Schardt, William C. White, Daniel J. Ryan, Joseph Yelman, Charles Wright, Thomas Church and Harry Jensen. D. H. Doyle, A. C. Weinman, Frank E. Doherty, William J. Scown, Frank M. Stressemann and T. J. McGinnis, members of the Carpenter and Contractors' association of Chicago also will be tried.

ONE PIE AND RAW SPUDS FEED TWO LOST WEEK IN SEA

Storm Drives Small Boat to Waves.

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—The two Freeport, L. I., fishermen who disappeared a week ago last Sunday returned today with an epic of the sea. Caught in a snow storm that isolated their little motor boat twenty miles to sea from Freeport, their compass went wrong and they began a drift that ended Saturday night when a schooner from Nassau picked them up, sixty-five miles southeast of Ambrose.

Capt. Bergen Smith, an 180 pounder, and Harry Matthews, are the two men who spent five days adrift. They were landed at Long Beach early today by the schooner Catherine M., which had picked them up after the men had drifted since Sunday.

One Still Sleeping.

The men went home to Freeport in a taxi from Long Beach and straight to bed. At noon Matthews was still sleeping, but Smith was up and told the story of the terrible week.

Smith said he and Matthews went fishing. They started back at 10:30 a. m., when something went wrong with their compass and they found themselves heading out to sea. Soon they realized they were lost. Then they stopped their motor and let the boat drift. It drifted until Friday afternoon throughout a great blizzard.

Suicide Pacts Suggested.

The only provisions they had were some raw potatoes, a gallon of drinking water, and a pie. For three days before they were picked up they had no food nor water. Matthews drank sea water and became delirious. While in this condition he tried to persuade Smith to split a bottle of iodine in a suicide pact. At least one ship passed every day, Smith said, but always too far away to hail until the schooner passed Friday afternoon.

The boat began to leak badly before the men were picked up by the schooner and they took the linings out of their overcoats to cork the seams.

Keep Looking Young

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all diseases come from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for cod-liver oil, is the action yet always effective. ## DEAD 32, DAMAGE MILLIONS IN ROAR OF MARCH STORM

Two Victims in Chicago; South Badly Hit.

Thirty-two deaths were caused by the storm which swept the country Sunday night and early yesterday morning, paralyzing wire communication, stalling transportation systems, wrecking buildings, and causing a property damage running far into the millions. Two of the fatalities were in Chicago.

Incomplete figures, due to the crippled wire service, show the following dead and injured:

Dead, injured, killed, and property damage figures for various locations including Chicago, South, and other areas.

Two Found Dead in Chicago. Although the south was the worst sufferer, the blizzard spread itself over the whole territory between the Rocky mountains on the west and the Appalachian range on the east. Some sections were pelted with a driving sleet while others were subjected to a deluge of rain, whipped by a gale reaching a velocity as high as 80 miles an hour.

The center of the disturbance passed near Chicago to the southward, then made its way east, leaving a trail of wreckage. The two deaths recorded in this city were those of Luke J. Barnes, 48, 107 Throop street, who was found half submerged in ice and snow in a gully near the Jefferson Park hospital, and an unidentified man, discovered in a ditch on West 52d street between Kostner and Kenneth avenues.

Roofs were torn from buildings, windows were broken, basements flooded, and many families were driven to the street in panic. Trees in Lincoln park were uprooted and blown across streets, causing much delay in traffic. Broken trolley wires held up street car service and telephone communication was hampered.

Destruction in Tennessee. Fifteen persons are known to have been killed at Pinson, Tenn., and one at Deaneburg, Tenn., near Jackson. The villages were asleep when the storm broke and many of the dead were tossed about in the wreckage of their homes by the furious gale. Rain and light hail added to the misery of the more than seventy-five injured.

Bands of relief workers arriving before dawn found the schoolhouse, two churches, and nearly 100 residences demolished, the debris scattered over a wide area. The injured were placed on special trains and rushed to Jackson, where the hospital facilities are overtaxed. One of those killed at Pinson was Mrs. J. L. James, wife of the Methodist minister.

Trains generally were hours late in storm affected areas of Illinois, Iowa, and other states.

HANDS OF DEATH

Above is registered the number of deaths in Chicago since Jan. 1, 1923, attributed to automobiles, moonshine, and guns. The figures are official, being a part of the coroner's records.

Wisconsin, Kentucky, Missouri, and Tennessee, a blizzard adding to the roads' troubles in Wisconsin. In a number of instances "lost" trains were located by use of the wireless, the Illinois Central especially finding its "broadcaster" system a ready help when wires balked. The Sioux City grain exchange, cut off from wires, got its quotations by radio from Omaha.

$350,000 BLAZE WIPES OUT WALL PAPER FACTORY

Fire supposed to have been caused by a "short" in a motor which ignited several barrels of naphtha last night wiped out the plant of the Illinois Varnish Tile company at 147th street and Ashland avenue, Harvey, Ill. The loss was estimated by Fire Chief John Hough at $350,000.

The company manufactures wall paper and had a large stock for the spring trade on hand. This and the machinery are a total loss. The plant occupied an entire block and only the walls are left of the building.

The company maintained its own fire apparatus, but was powerless when the naphtha barrels began to explode throwing the burning explosive all over the interior of the structure. When the Harvey and Phoenix departments arrived the flames had gained such headway their work was futile.

Firemen arrived at a blaze in the premises of the Kettler company, hair goods concern, 32 West Washington street, yesterday just in time to prevent four panic-stricken girl employees from jumping from a second story window. Damage amounted to only $500.

Gompers May Leave Hospital This Week. New York, March 12.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who has been seriously ill from influenza at the Lenox Hill hospital, was reported somewhat improved today. Unless complications arise he will be able to leave the hospital this week, physicians said.

Father of Jackie Coogan Sued for an Accounting. New York, March 12.—A suit for $17,500 was started today against John Coogan, father of "Jackie" Coogan, boy film star. John P. Connolly, the complainant, declared that amount was due him for services as Jackie's personal representative.

3 KILLED, 4 HURT AS AUTO DEATHS REACH 121 MARK

Three persons killed and four injured in a series of automobile accidents yesterday brought Cook county's motor fatality list to 121 for the year.

John J. Dunn, 61 years old, living at 7223, South Peoria street, died at the Pullman hospital from injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile at 114th street, and Cottage Grove avenue.

Patrick Flannigan, 50 years old, living at West Fulton street and North Kilpatrick avenue, was instantly killed when crushed between a four-ton coal truck and another truck which was attempting to aid the first after it had been mired.

Mrs. Mattie Ford, colored, address undetermined, was struck and almost instantly killed by a taxicab, the driver of which failed to stop, while she was crossing Wabash avenue at 44th street.

How Accident Occurred. Flannigan, according to police reports was an employee of the O'Keefe Coal company, Cicero avenue and West 16th street. He was holding a timber against the rear end of the coal truck and the front end of the other truck which was pushing. The timber suddenly slipped. Before Paul Zenkula, 1402 South Kilbourne avenue, chauffeur of the second truck could stop his machine, Flannigan had been crushed.

Three occupants and the chauffeur of a taxicab were slightly injured yesterday when the cab skidded into an electric light post at Briar place and Sheridan road. Morris Hilds, 1431 South St. Louis avenue, the chauffeur, suffered internal injuries, and Robey Lieberman and Mrs. Lieberman, 2322 North Clark street, were cut and bruised. Miss Belle Levine, 817 Glenview place sustained a broken nose and lacerated face.

Two Held for Wild Driving. Theodore Schuettauf, 4638 Wentworth avenue, and Harold Montschien, 4802 Princeton avenue, are held at the Englewood police station on charges of having driven an automobile while intoxicated. The men were captured by Policemen Owen Small and Charles Walsh, 3835 West Jackson boulevard.

SAARINEN FINDS BEAUTY IN N. Y. ARCHITECTURE

Tribune Winner Comes to Chicago Friday.

New York, March 12.—(Special.)—America, known throughout Europe as a commercial nation, is not entirely lacking in love of architectural beauty, according to Eliel Saarinen, architect and winner of the second prize in the Tribune building competition, who arrived here last week from Finland to study city planning and the buildings and museums of New York and Chicago.

Europe is mistaken when it thinks that the United States is wholly given over to commercialism, Mr. Saarinen said today. "I have been amazed by the beauty, both exterior and interior, shown by many of the banking and office buildings. Architecture, in my mind, is divided into two branches—love and commercialism."

Finland Beautiful Buildings. "That American architects have combined the two branches is quite evident when one looks at such buildings as the National City bank, the Cunard building, the White Star building, and many of the big hotels."

All over the city it is just a jumble of buildings," he explained, "and the beauty of many of the architectural show places of the city is minimized by their surroundings. Take Madison square, for instance—'and the city's civic spots—it is ugly. There is a park, and open space, with a tall building here and a flat, squat little makeshift building adjoining it. Places like Madison square should be surrounded by beautiful edifices and not by irregular ugly stores and office buildings."

Praises Columbia Library. "Many of the public buildings are beautiful, especially the library building at Columbia university. That, I think, is one of the most beautiful buildings that I have seen. The department stores here, too, are a revelation. I am eager to see the Marshall Field store in Chicago."

Discussing city planning, Mr. Saarinen said that undoubtedly the big cities in the United States were awakening to its importance. One of the best examples of group architecture is around Grand Central station. The magnificent hotels and office buildings there harmonize with their surroundings and make it one of the truly beautiful spots in Manhattan.

"I am greatly interested in Chicago's city planning move. I am going out there with my associate, Gustaf Strom, to make a close study of the architectural arrangement of the city, and it is my hope that both of us will be able to help."

Mr. Saarinen will remain in New York for the American Institute of Architecture dinner Wednesday night and will leave for Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited Thursday afternoon.

LAST ZONE DRAFT GIVES BOUL MICH SKYSCRAPER LINE

Commission Approves of Tentative Ordinance.

With a final alteration which more than doubled the proposed area allotted to 264 foot skyscrapers, the city zoning commission yesterday approved the tentative zoning ordinance on which it has been at work for eight months. The vote of the twenty-two members was unanimous.

The commission put its O. K. on the petition of Chauncey Keep, Victor W. Lawson, George M. Reynolds, Potter Palmer, E. A. Eckhart, Charles S. Peterson, James O. Heyworth, Charles H. Hulburd, John Wentworth, and other owners of property along Lake Shore drive asking that the skyscraper area be extended along the drive from Oak street, the proposed extreme northern limit, to North avenue.

Great Strip for Skyscrapers.

Approval of the Gold Coasters' request means that the way is thrown open to a 264 foot sky line from 23d street on the south to Lincoln park on the north.

Though the boundaries of the high building area, technically known as the "fifth volume district," will be as follows, if the council approves the commission's report: Grant park and Lake Michigan, on the east; on the west, an irregular line running from North avenue south to Pearson street, from 150 to 200 feet west of Lake Shore drive, thence west nearly to State street, south to just north of Chicago avenue, west to La Salle street, south to Grand avenue, west to Halsted street, and south to 16th street. On the south the zone is bounded by 16th street. La Salle street extended across the railroad yards, 22d street, and east of Michigan avenue, by 23d street.

Sheridan road, from Bryn Mawr avenue to Foster avenue, was finally zoned for both commercial and apartment house uses, with a height limit of 152 feet, and from Bryn Mawr avenue to Devon avenue the "road" is limited to one family dwellings.

Objects Line Point.

In throwing Lake Shore drive open to high buildings and commercial pursuits, the commission turned down the petition of Joseph T. Ryerson, Russell Tyson, Walter L. Fisher, Kellogg Fairbank, William McCormick Blair, E. I. Cudahy, and others, who insisted that the drive and the district west, at least to Dearborn street, be zoned for residences, apartments, and hotels conforming to the "apartment use" assigned to it in the tentative ordinance, changed yesterday.

Building Commissioner Bostrom, chairman of the commission, said that the promise of a majority of Lake Shore drive property owners to enter into a "restrictive agreement" among themselves providing that business shall be kept off the drive for at least ten years was taken into consideration in granting the request for a commercial and high building zone along the drive.

Aid. William R. O'Toole, a member of the commission, and chairman of the council committee on buildings and zoning, will introduce the ordinance at next Wednesday's council session. As the commission has spent more than a year canvassing and re-canvassing requests of improvement associations, civic organizations, utilities, bodies politic, and individual property owners, the document may not be referred to the building committee for further discussion.

Aid. O'Toole indicated that if no material objections manifest themselves he will ask that ordinance be published and deferred for a week or two and then put on passage without committee action.

As finally approved the ordinance divides Chicago into four zones—single residence, apartment, manufacturing, and commercial districts. Forty-two per cent of the city's area is set aside for apartments, 21 per cent for commercial uses, 32 per cent for manufacturing, and 29 per cent exclusively for single residences, although, of course, single family dwellings may be built in any of the other three districts.

TILLIE KLIMEK IS STRONG WITNESS IN OWN DEFENSE

Emphatic denials of the charge that she murdered her former husband, Frank Kupczyk, by introducing frequent doses of arsenic in his food and liquor, or that she was in any way responsible for the deaths of two other husbands, were made by Mrs. Tillie Klimek on the witness stand in Judge Marcus Kavanagh's court yesterday.

Mrs. Klimek took the stand in her own defense in the morning. She was dressed in a plain black silk dress and wore the black sailor hat she bought on the day Kupczyk died. An interpreter stood by her side, ready to put into Polish any of the English questions she did not understand.

Crowd of Court Fans.

The large crowd of court fans leaned forward in the seats. For days they had been awaiting the moment when the little Polish woman would "have her day in court" and tell in her own words the story of the deaths of the three men whom the state contends she poisoned. Her attorney, John Prystalski, moved over to the edge of the judge's bench and began the examination.

"Mrs. Klimek," he said, "tell the jury whether you were responsible for the death of your former husband, Frank Kupczyk."

"I certainly was not. He died by moonshine," the answer was shot back like the crack of a whip.

"How long were you married to Joseph Mitkiewicz?" her counsel asked.

"I married him eighteen years."

No Discard with Mates.

"Did you have any trouble with him before he died?"

"No, I did not."

"Did you have any trouble with any of your husbands?"

"I did not. I loved them; they loved me. They just died same as other people. I not responsible for that. I could no help if they wanted to die."

Mrs. Klimek then was questioned regarding the allegations of several state's witnesses that she bought a coffin and had it stored in the house three days before Kupczyk died, and that she played "jazz" music on a victrola the afternoon of his death. She denied both.

"They got it in for me. They no like me cause I wouldn't let them have stuff from my store for nothing," she replied.

State Can't Shake Her.

For three hours in the afternoon Mrs. Klimek combated words for words the intense cross-examination put to her by Assistant State's Attorneys Thomas Peden and William McLoughlin. Never for an instant did she waver from her story of denial and not once did the prosecutors manage to "trap her" or get her confused.

It was brought out that Mrs. Klimek cooked all the meals eaten by Kupczyk during their married life. She also admitted that she obtained a quart of "moonshine" whiskey and gave it to her husband two days before he died.

"How long after Kupczyk died did you go and get an undertaker to take charge of the body?" Mr. McLoughlin asked.

"I went thirty minutes after he stopped breathing."

Five Day Courtship.

The woman stated that she was married to Kupczyk after a five-day courtship and only five weeks after the death of a former husband.

"Did you show Frank a picture of a coffin the day before he died and ask him if it would be all right for him to be buried in?"

"That's a lie. I never did."

The closing arguments will be made this morning. The state will take two hours and the defense will argue for three hours. The case will go to the jury late in the day, it was predicted.

WORK STARTS ON FIRST DIRECTORY IN SEVEN YEARS

Work of printing a new city directory for Chicago—the first one the city has had in seven years—was begun yesterday in the plant of the R. L. Polk company. The volume of names is so great, however, that it will be several months before the book is off the press.

"We have no way as yet," said W. H. McPharlin, manager of the directory department, "of telling just how many names will appear in the directory—probably over a million, however."

One interesting thing disclosed by the canvass is the great increase in Scandinavian names. The Petersons, the Larsons, and the Cohens are giving the Smiths a good race.

To be gracious, respectful

When You Catch Cold
Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 35c and 65c jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00. Better than a mustard plaster.

WHAT'S LAW TO PROHIBITION?

The board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church has issued a statement at Washington demanding that the United States seize the rum runners lying out, side American waters.

"The only thing to do," the board said, "is to detail United States destroyers to round up these ships, bring them to port and confiscate ships and cargoes and jail every man found on board them." It adds that if international law forbids this the United States should change the law "within the next few hours."

That is a large order. Many of the ships are British. Much of the property is British. Many of the rum runners are British subjects. They are out in waters which the United States does not control. The quick way of dealing with them, of course, is to ignore international law, to act as a lawless nation, to undertake piracy, and to seize the ships.

That is a quick way to get British battleships off the American coast instead of rum ships. We have never heard of Great Britain being indifferent to the rights of British subjects on the seas.

The prohibitionists who give the advice are also pacifists. Their influence is used to prevent the army and navy from being adequate and effective. They urge lawlessness and invite war. They proceed from indifference to personal rights to indifference to national rights. When they have an object to attain their regard for laws and the rights of others steps.

They complain of disrespect for law and are the first to put law aside. They are responsible for a condition which permits a person to be punished twice for one crime. They are responsible for the theory that wet communities should be disfranchised. They would violate sea law. They promote pacifism in the United States and would destroy the army and navy, but are willing to have the country go to war as a lawbreaker.

Pacifism is blind. It is the desire to dominate regardless of means. Dry Kansas will dominate wet New York. Dry America wants to dominate wet Great Britain.

Why not threaten to send gunboats to bombard Nassau if Nassau does not stop sending rum carriers to the New Jersey coast? Why not invade Canada if the stream of Canadian liquor into the United States be not stopped? Why not declare war on France if the liquor smuggling from St. Pierre is not suppressed by the French government?

Preparatory to this the prohibitionists as pacifists should sink the American navy and then run to cover in the interior of the country, as they did in 1917.

THANKS TO INDIANA FOR DUNES PARK.

The state of Indiana has done a service to all the other states in the Union by authorizing the purchase of 2,000 acres of the dunes in Porter county, to be preserved as a state park.

This dune country, as pointed out in THE TRIBUNE some seven years ago and persistently since, is unique for park purposes. Without the grandeur of the Grand cañon, without the awe inspiring beauty of Niagara, and without the tremendous scenic sweep and variety of the Yellowstone, it still has something of the natural appeal of all three, and, in addition, has a marvelous, delicate beauty and variety of its own.

What is even more important to Chicago and to the middle west, it lies at our doors. It can be the occasional playground of almost every adult and child in half a dozen states. It is a natural field for development and preservation of an infinite variety of wild plant life. Indiana is preserving all these advantages to us and to our children by taking under state protection a region which otherwise would eventually become a wilderness of factories.

EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYEE.

A Japanese student of industrial relations says that strife between employers and employees can be reduced by sending them both off for a camp out together. He's tried it in Japan and it works. We have no doubt it would work with American employers and employees, and, in fact, the principle the Japanese plan embodies is being applied in many ways in this country.

That principle is founded in human nature and is merely that we distrust and dislike what we do not know, and that men who associate with one another and come to know one another as human beings learn to like and trust one another.

It is growing more and more to be understood even in the largest industries that the competent executive knows his men and sees to it that his men know him. Only by knowing his men as fellow human beings can an executive learn what they need and legitimately demand. Only by his employees knowing him as a fellow human being can he win their trust and their respect for his difficulties.

But the initiative for such fellowship must come from the employer. An employer cannot invite himself to the acquaintance of his employee. It is the executive who should make the advance and keep making it sincerely until the employee is willing to meet him half way. It is worthy of notice that the Japanese quoted was a labor delegate to the international labor conference of last October and his camping plan evidently has the approval of labor. In America labor tends to suspect such devices as disguised attempts to weaken employees' organizations.

But that is not an insurmountable barrier if the employer is on the square. Sincerity is the essential of success for any effort to create a good human relation between employer and employee, and where that exists unjust suspicion in time disappears and relation develops to the great benefit of all concerned. This is no panacea, but it is a great advance in industrial conditions and one which can never be accomplished by organization into exclusive parties. It is not a substitute for employee organization, but it can accomplish a good deal that is desirable from both the employer's and the employee's viewpoint, and that organization can accomplish only at great cost to both, if at all.

A PLAUSIBLE FALLACY.

Gov. J. J. Blaine of Wisconsin has sent messages to the governors of Minnesota, Michigan, and Indiana inviting them to join in proceedings before the Supreme court to check diversion of lake water through the Chicago sanitary district canal. A conference is proposed to be held in Chicago on March 19.

The sanitary district is accused of diverting so much water that it has lowered the level of Lake Michigan six inches, and has necessitated expenditure of millions of dollars for dredging by other lake cities. The charge is fallacious, though plausible, because it is natural to believe that if water is drained from a vessel the height of the water remaining will be lowered. In its plausibility lies its danger. Neither Wisconsin nor the other states should be deceived.

The fact is that a vastly greater amount of water, in excess of that authorized, is diverted from ordinary lake channels for water power development at Niagara above the falls and above the rapids than is diverted at Chicago. There is also plenty of reason to doubt that the level of Lake Michigan has been lowered six inches by the drainage canal. There is still greater reason to doubt that any lowering of the lake level is responsible for millions of dollars' worth of dredging. Fluctuations of lake levels due to persistent winds from one quarter or another, and sometimes attributed to atmospheric pressure, are much in excess of six inches. They cannot be corrected by legislation, and in comparison the minor change complained of, even if true, which they must, would be of negligible importance.

The way to regulate lake levels, if they must be regulated, is to put controlling works at the main points of drainage, compared to which the Chicago river is as a summer brook beside the Mississippi in flood.

Incidentally the use of drainage district water to develop electric power for Chicago is attacked as a gigantic "steal." In this matter Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, and Indiana should remember that any such electric power made available for Chicago releases electric power for their own use. We do not, as Gov. Smith of New York has done, seek to prevent exportation of electric power from this state to others. In justice to all concerned these states should be reasonable. It will profit them.

FOR JUST REPRESENTATION.

In the recent vote on the resolution for a commission to present a plan for redistricting the state in accordance with the mandate of the constitution twelve downstate members of the house of representatives voted with Cook county members against nullification. It is through the spread of such sentiment as these votes indicated that the fundamental disregard of law and justice may be brought to an end in Illinois. Chicago will press the matter and should whenever opportunity can be found. The denial of fair representation will do an injury to the entire state by creating an issue which should not exist and which is damaging.

LENIN NEEDS THE CASH.

"Eight million Russians will die of starvation this year if America does not continue to give famine relief."

This is the assertion of two representatives of the Quaker relief just returned from Russia and Poland and now assisting the Chicago Committee for American Relief for Russian Women and Children.

Meanwhile under the benign dictatorship of the proletariat there is now being shipped out from Black sea ports of Russia 1,400,000 bushels of wheat purchased by the German government. In addition about 4,000,000 bushels of wheat and rye await forwarding from these ports, and 1,200,000 are at Petrograd waiting for shipment upon the opening of navigation.

We do not cite these facts to discourage relief for the wretched victims of bolshevism, but for the light they throw upon the Lenin régime. Money for relief sent abroad is needed to sustain the Red rule and no bourgeois scruples weaken this simple plan. No capitalist government would demean itself to adopt it, but bolshevism rules with the mailed hand. Justification to the revolutionary conscience is easy. The glorious revolution must not fail.

Editorial of the Day

IT CANNOT BE, AND YET—

[Joplin, Mo., Globe.]

Is Illinois any better state for crooks than other states? One would dislike to make such a conclusion, and yet—

It was in Illinois that a grafter in a state office was found guilty of having fished some $20,000 from the public treasury and was fined $1,000. It was in Illinois that the governor set free sixteen men convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for the crime of obstructing their country at war; set them free before they had had an opportunity to serve any of their sentences.

It was in Illinois that twenty-four men were taken out in broad daylight and shot dead for the offense of attempting to work when a strike was on, and the first five men tried for this massacre were found "not guilty," and it is being freely predicted those now on trial will also be freed.

It is impossible to believe Illinois would willingly invite the nation's crooks to come and revel untried, and yet—

UNDER THE SKIN.

[Aurora Beacon-News.]

"The Four Horsemen" broke all records for a film run in London, being withdrawn after its three hundred and tenth performance at the Palace theater. It surprised us to learn that the previous record was held by "Way Down East."

The editorial moral? Well, for one thing, emotions are about the same in one country as another. And so are the people. If all nations realized this, they might war against each other less often.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Here to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

OLD VOX POP says that one has intimate memories of a trip on the railroad because the dear old Pullman cars have names, and that therefore it would be a sweet idea to call the street cars names instead of numbers. Oh, Vox Pop, old thing, we do call the street cars names. Only yesterday morning, Vox, we saw two fat men who were squeezed off the back porch of a Clark street car because of the congestion of said back porch. They must have read what was published in your column, Vox, for how they did call that street car names! They named that street car, yes sir! They most certainly named it!

HECKLE, LET VIVIANE FIGHT.

Dear R. H. L.: Who does Ursus think he is? Jack Dempsey, the second? But I don't want the King of the Black Isles to fight Ursus. There would be murder done and Ursus would be carried out feet first. Here's what I'm coming to: Eckie hasn't given us girls a square deal in that big Tribune boxing carnival. Let us in! And I'll fight Ursus! Yes, with sixteen ounce gloves or six ounce gloves, or bare knuckles, or just bite, scratch and pull hair. I don't care, just let me get at Ursus. WOW!

ETCHING.

Brushes lash at the face of the moon,
Crut in their bitten lines;
Clouds bend low to bathe the wound,
Soft as the drop-point lines;
Dreams, scratched there in a misty way,
Tender themselves to me,
While a lone lone swoops and drops himself
Into a drop-point way. V. F. H.

OH, WHY SHOULD THE SPIRIT OF MORTAL BE PROUD!

Vangible dear: Scientific investigation proves the ingredients of a man are:
Fat enough for a bar of laundry soap.
Iron enough for two nails.
Sugar enough to fill a tea cup.
Line enough to whitewash a chicken coop.
Phosphorus for a box of matches.
Potassium to explode a toy pistol.
Sulphur to rid a dog of all his fleas.
But all of this junk can be bought at any corner drug store for 99 cents.

THE RESEMBLANCE IS CERTAINLY CLOSE.
Dear R. H. L.: I don't want the bologna, but I have shlockered the answer to your composite portrait puzzle. You can't kid me. That is no composit at all but a living unity. I know that bird. He is one of the legislators who voted to abolish the Wisconsin National Guard. Look at that face! Can you doubt it? HUNNELL CARR.

YES, BUT A PAIR OF THINGS ONLY COUNT ONE.

Dear, dear Mr. Mere Man: How can you be so dumb in these days of ultra-modernism? The heroine of "Adventuring," in the Saturday Eve Post, who only wore silk garments, surely must have had something to help the stockings dry the fog of gravitation! I imagine they were black and gold! Therefore 2+2=5. E. K. G.

SONG.

The dingles in her cheeks—
They come and run away;
I would I might for weeks
Behold those elfin play.

I wonder where they go,
When at the poppled pool
Of sleep she lies, I know!
They hide within her soul.

And all night long they make
Her dreams doleful things—
Perchance to music wake
My heart's enamored strings.

ANTHRAX AND SHAVING BRUSHES.

H. C. G. writes: "Is anthrax likely to be contracted from any kind of shaving brush bristles or merely from the cheap brushes?"

REPLY: 1. There is very little danger from the use of any kind of a shaving brush. The danger is no greater from cheap brushes than it is from the more expensive brushes. 2. How could a shaving brush be disinfected so that there would be no danger of contracting this disease, and at the same time not injure the 'set' of the bristles? 3. The anthrax bacillus is about the only spore bearing bacillus which infects man. Of the thousands of bacteria known to science only a few are known to be harmful. The number of bacteria that are directly helpful to man may be as great as the number which directly harm him. We are all surrounded by those which are directly helpful. The credit side of the ledger mounts very high. In fact, the bacteria have lots of money, or credit, in the human bank.

By indirect contributions I mean such activities as making soil fit for vegetation, by breaking down dead animal and vegetable matter, and by making soil fertile out of air, converting dead animals and garbage and such into useful chemical compounds, and the purification of water. The few bacteria which harm man are not tenacious of life outside the human body or the bodies of animals. Practically none of them are spore bearers, which is simply another way of saying that few can withstand drying and heating.

Unfortunately, anthrax bacillus is a spore bearer. When the spores are dried, and particularly standards of cleanliness, are as high as they are with us, there is very little danger of anthrax. During the world war there was a modern number of cases of anthrax. Infection with shaving brushes. The ordinary channels of trade were profoundly disturbed. Materials were used for purposes which had not been employed before. It became necessary to do something. The civilized nations got busy, and in consequence, the danger of anthrax was reduced. The use of shaving brushes but also from wool, hides and hair, generally were never so small as they now are.

I have recently read a report on a voluntary, cooperative movement to sterilize wool imported into England which, for a few years, has made all the imported wool in that country safe. The same methods can be applied to all hair and hides.

The shaving brush methods were ruled on by Surgeon General Blum. While the methods are not being carried out 100 per cent, the improvement in that direction, plus the improvement in trade practices, has made shaving brushes almost safe.

REPLY: 1. No, assuming that "occasionally" means to you what it does to me. The habitual use of bicarbonate is harmful. It is better to prevent the acid than it is to take even an occasional dose for relief.

C. OF C. MEMBERS OPPOSE SMALL'S ROAD BOND PLEA

Would Raise Taxes and Hurt Farmer, They Say.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Leading commercial interests of the state, represented by the Chicago Association of Commerce, joined the rapidly growing forces opposing Gov. Small's proposed $100,000,000 road bond issue yesterday. Announcement of the association's stand on the most important piece of administration legislation before the general assembly came in the form of a resolution by the executive committee, unconditionally opposing the measure and declaring that its passage now would upset the economic balance throughout the state.

"An expenditure of $100,000,000 for roads at this time would interfere with other necessary building operations, disarrange the agricultural and transportation industries and increase taxation at a most inopportune time," says the statement in explanation of the committee's action.

Favored Other Issue.

"The Chicago Association of Commerce, with numerous other organizations, actively participated in the campaign in favor of a bond issue of $60,000,000 in 1918. Approximately $17,000,000 of the $60,000,000 has been spent, leaving $43,000,000 still available. Construction of roads with funds derived from the state bond issue, from the federal government and from county taxation, has proceeded at the maximum pace warranted by industrial conditions. The governor of Illinois has proposed to the legislature that a referendum be ordered on a new bond issue of $100,000,000. At the same time the administration announces

DISCOVER BODY OF PRESSMAN, LONG MISSING, IN RIVER

A three months' search for Jerome B. Osborn, a pressman employed by

THE TRIBUNE, ended yesterday when his body was taken from the river at Roosevelt road. It was seen floating in the water by the bridge tender, who notified police. Osborn, who lived at 2203 Lovejoy avenue, disappeared on Dec. 10. He left home for work as usual and is known to have reached Grand avenue and State street, a point only a few blocks from THE TRIBUNE plant, before dropping out of sight. The body, which was identified by the widow, Mrs. Emma Osborn, and other relatives, apparently had been in the water for some time.

that expenditure of the $43,000,000 remaining will be hastened, so that it will all be spent by the end of 1924.

Waste of Money.

"The most competent experts in the state agree that expenditure of so vast a sum in so short a time will result not only in extravagances and waste of the people's money, but also in the disarrangement of the agricultural, building and transportation industries.

"Experience, not only here but in other states, has shown that such a program would take labor from the farms at a time when it is most needed there, because road contractors would be able to offer much higher wages than the farmer could afford to pay at present crop prices. Much of the material that goes into modern roads also is used in modern buildings, and it is beyond question that with road contractors and building contractors bidding for the same material, the cost to each will be increased and passed along to the taxpayer, business man, farmer and renter.

"We believe that the same public spirited forces which in 1918 created favorable sentiment for the $60,000,000 bond issue are united at this time against the present proposal. We are confirmed in this opinion by the expressions from the Sangamon County Farm bureau, Madison County Farm bureau, Kane County Farm bureau and the Cook County Truck Gardeners' and Farmers' association, representing the sentiments of farmers in widely different sections of the state, as well as by the expressions of such representative organizations as the Illinois Bankers' association and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce."

DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL.

Albert Cohn, 47 years old, 2203 Magnolia avenue, was suddenly taken ill in a drug store on Sunday night and died on the way to hospital.

"The American mother does not know how to take care of her children unless she teaches them to eat prunes regularly"

That is the simple, but startling, conclusion reached by a famous health writer. Why are prunes so essential to the well-being of every child? Because prunes—and especially Sunsweet Prunes—contain more digestible natural fruit sugar than any other fruit. That means energy—for study and play. They are rich in tonic iron and other mineral and "vitamine" elements. That means strength—greater resistance to disease. And, more important than all—

Sunsweet Prunes give your children a natural corrective—a laxative from Nature's own pharmacy—a laxative that they like!

Cash Dividends

Paid March 1st

Did you receive one of these dividend checks? Another dividend will be paid June 1st. Will you be one to get a check?

"20,000 stockholders" is the slogan—be one of these as a real partner in a great business.

$55.00 per share is too cheap for the stock if we consider its future possibilities, but the President of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., wants the real investor to own this stock at a low price—it looks foolish to the average person that the same stock that is every day sold on the New York and Chicago Exchanges at a much higher price can be and is sold at $55.00 per share.

Why? Why? Many times is asked and just as many times answered that CLARENCE SAUNDERS, President of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., bought this stock in the open market before present advance in the market price on the Stock Exchanges, and because he wants 20,000 stockholders in his Company—and because, too, he wants these stockholders to make money and be satisfied partners in the business with him, and because, too, he does not want this stock to get back into the hands of the "speculators" and market "manipulators."

Instead of asking "why?" and wondering "why?", it would pay you to buy this stock at $55.00 per share while the allotment of stock for this town lasts, as there are just so many shares allotted for each town at this price and when this is sold it will then be too late for you to ask "why?" or wonder "why?"

CLASS "A" COMMON STOCK

OF

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES

INC.

$55 Per Share $55 Per Share

Partial Payment Plan or All Cash If Desired

This is a voting stock. Is preferred as to dividends. Is cumulative as to dividends—now paying $1.00 per share quarterly, which is more than 7% on the price of $55 per share. Dividend dates are March 1st, June 1st, September 1st and December 1st. This stock is traded in on both the New York and Chicago Stock Exchanges. Is good collateral for a bank loan.

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES, INC., has no bonded debt, no preferred stock ahead of this Class "A" Stock either in dividends or assets.

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES now operating in 41 States and Canada—1,241 stores now the total—located in 388 towns and cities.

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES, INC., owns and operates 659 of these stores, located in the principal towns and cities of the country.

It is not only the present 7% profit that the stockholder in PIGGLY WIGGLY will get for his money—there is bound to come that enhancement in the value of the stock that is due to follow the expansion and growth of this business, and with it will come, as a natural sequence, a larger dividend rate.

The sales of this Company for the last quarter of 1922 amounted to almost $11,000,000.00, and for December to practically $4,000,000.00, and for the present quarter are expected to exceed $11,000,000.00—and with plans for expansion during the present year sales should exceed $60,000,000.00, and possibly will exceed $75,000,000.00.

The net Earnings for the last quarter of 1922 exceeded $315,000.00, and it is expected that these figures will be exceeded for the first quarter of 1923. At this rate the quarterly dividend requirements of $1.00 per share will be earned by more than 50 per cent on our present 200,000 shares of outstanding Class "A" Common Stock, and with the expansion plans of this Company that are to be acted upon during the present year these earnings should be materially larger.

This Company also operates Variety Stores in Memphis, Tenn.; Chicago, Ill.; Norfolk, Va.; Nashville, Tenn.; Chattanooga, Tenn., and Terre Haute, Ind. These stores are extremely profitable and many more will be established during the present year.

It is desired that wide distribution be had on this block of stock, and that this may be accomplished arrangements have been perfected so that this stock may be paid for on a partial payment plan upon the basis of $25.00 cash per share, and three notes at the rate of $10.00 per share, due June 1st, Sept. 1st and Dec. 1st. This means you will receive more than 7% on the entire investment and pay 6% on the balance as represented by notes of $30.00 per share. If desired, cash may be paid in full for the stock.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR U.S.-ITALIAN TRADE IS SEEN

American Business Men
Meet in Milan.

BY GIULIO BARELLA.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
MILAN, March 12.—The annual meeting of the American chamber of commerce in Italy was held here today.

Secretary Edmiston told a meeting of tradesmen and financial men of both countries that the prospects of Italian-American commercial relations were becoming brighter daily. Mr. Edmiston pointed out that 1922 began somewhat darkly with the failure of the Banca Italiana di Sconto, which was connected with the disaster to the Ansaldo company, the largest metallurgical concern in Italy.

Towards the middle of 1922 the financial situation took a very dark turn, the deficit in the government budget reaching 5,000,000,000 lire (about $200,000,000). The losses from the state railways were mainly responsible for the floating debt of more than 1,000,000,000 lire ($50,000,000), which was met by issuing notes.

Unemployment Drops Off.
Trade showed an improvement, imports during the first half of 1922 being valued at 7,746,000,000 lire ($317,200,000), and exports being valued at 4,198,000,000 lire ($209,900,000), thus reducing the unfavorable trade balance by 1,256,000,000 lire ($62,800,000).

During 1922 unemployment decreased considerably, dropping from 600,000 to 354,238.
"It is a matter of history how that, in spite of some headway against adverse conditions, the political situation had at the end of October become intolerable," Mr. Edmiston said. "A number of ministers loudly proclaimed that rigid economy was necessary, but not one promise was kept. The whole moral atmosphere was changed by the Mussolini government."

Economy Is Watchword.
"Public and private credit immediately improved and a new spirit of discipline was felt, the improved spirit in public services soon extending to private employers and workmen. Rigorous economies were not promised, but were immediately put into effect and measures were taken looking forward to a transference of railroads and the telephone and telegraph services to private enterprises."
"Despite the unfavorable political condition the Italian chamber of commerce reports for the first half of 1922 showed a certain improvement, Italian exports having increased with the sole exception of the United States figure, which diminished 143,000,000 lire ($7,150,000). Imports from the United States also decreased 1,235,000,000 lire ($61,750,000)."
"Another indication of improved economic conditions was obtained from the statistics on capital and stock of the companies. In January, 1923, 104 stock companies with a total capital of 41,701,000 lire ($2,085,000) were formed and eighty companies already in existence increased their capital 302,264,250 lire ($15,113,000)."

QUIZ JURORS ON RADICAL VIEWS IN FOSTER TRIAL

Communists Watch St.
Joseph Hearing:

St. Joseph, Mich., March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—William Z. Foster of Chicago was placed on trial in Circuit court here today charged with assembling with an organization formed "to teach and advocate the doctrines of criminal syndicalism."

Selection of a jury for the case, which grows out of a raid on the communist convention held secretly in the isolated sand dune country south of St. Joseph last August may be completed by tomorrow night.

Walsh Challenges Two.
Prosecutor Charles W. Gore of Berrien county tendered a panel of nine men and three women to Frank P. Walsh of New York and Washington, chief counsel for the defense, within two hours after court opened. Mr. Walsh's examination of the talesmen proceeded cautiously and when court adjourned tonight he had challenged two for cause, both maintaining they held fixed opinions.

The examination by both state and defense covered a wide range of questions from local politics to international affairs. The state questioned the prospective jurors particularly as to whether they had read propaganda for the defense by the American Civil Liberties union of New York. Although 15,000 letters were said to have been mailed, only one of the panel recalled having seen the pamphlets.

Small's Pardon Cited.
The pamphlets included a bulletin by the Methodist Federation for Social Service of New York attacking the prosecution and a statement called "why two governors freed political prisoners," setting forth the reasons Gov. Len Small of Illinois gave for pardoning William Brock Lloyd and other communists, and the reasons Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York announced when he pardoned Jim Larkin and four others convicted in New York. Edgar Owens and Max Redacht, two of those involved in the Illinois case, are fellow defendants with Foster here. Charles E. Ruthenberg, Benjamin Gitlow, and Harry Winitsky, convicted in the New York case, also are under arrest here.

ROBBERS THIEF STOLE AUTO.
Three robbers held up the night watchman of the garage of the McKewen Transportation company, 1423 West 80th street, on Sunday night and took away an auto.

NEW FARM CREDIT BANKS ADVISED TO BEGIN SLOWLY

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—While intermediate credit banks created by the new agricultural credit law will be immediately chartered, the farm loan board has issued instructions to the officers of the banks to proceed cautiously and restrict their operations until the new system is firmly established.

Loans will be limited to nine months during the experimental period, although assurance will be given of renewals on live stock paper. The banks are designed under the law to provide credits for agriculture for from six months to three years.

Instead of supplying each of the twelve new banks with $5,000,000 of government funds as working capital at the start, it is understood to be the plan to provide $1,000,000 at once, increasing the amount as considered necessary.

Charles E. Lobdell, head of the farm loan board, issued a statement today outlining the policy developed in the conference held last week with the presidents of the twelve land banks, to each of which is to be attached one of the new intermediate credit banks.

How Old Lord Sandwich Helped the Modern Food Manufacturer

EVERYBODY is familiar with the sandwich, but how many know that it was invented by the fourth earl of Sandwich? Lord Sandwich was gambling one day at a famous gambling club with Lord Spencer. They had been playing for hours, forgetting all about dinner. Finally the pangs of hunger began to assert themselves. "Waiter," called Lord Sandwich, "bring me something to eat—a couple of slices of roast beef, and just slip them between some slices of bread."

Thus, in 1758, the first sandwich came into existence. And thus the sandwich, with its varied uses, became a great business-boosting aid to food manufacturers.

Who, for instance, can estimate the number of sandwiches or the tons of food products consumed by the 5,500,000 people of the Philadelphia Trading Area—the Richest Territory in the United States—in one year? Important to the food manufacturers is this fact: In the typical home in the Philadelphia Trading Area the kitchen is used as a kitchen three times a day. Philadelphians eat at home, and here is the proof:

New York, with three times the population of Philadelphia proper, has almost eighteen times as many eating places.

In New York, Sunday is the big day in the large restaurants. In Philadelphia many leading restaurants and most of the smaller ones are closed on Sunday, because there is no trade. The people are at home enjoying home cooking.

Housewives in this richest territory in the United States have been educated to demand the best. Their buying for the table is governed by four factors—Quality, Purity, Plenty, and the Food Pages of THE NORTH AMERICAN.

These pages, conducted by Mrs. Anna B. Scott, THE NORTH AMERICAN'S food expert and household economist, have become a byword in thousands of homes in the Philadelphia Trading Area. Some idea of Mrs. Scott's powerful influence is gained from the fact that there are more than 20,000 women enrolled in her Cooking Club!

Think! 20,000 women—feeding probably 100,000 people three times a day—and every one swearing by Mrs. Scott and THE NORTH AMERICAN. What does such a club mean to you, Mr. Food Manufacturer?

Make your product known to the thrifty and prosperous people of the Philadelphia Trading Area by broadcasting your message thru the Food Pages of

THE NORTH AMERICAN. Eighty-five per cent of its circulation is home delivered; 30 per cent is prepaid yearly mail subscription—unmistakable evidence of buying power and reader confidence. THE NORTH AMERICAN is the one newspaper that brings maximum results at a minimum cost.

CHURCH POSTS $1,000 REWARD IN LARSON HUNT

Police to Intensify Search
Today.

One thousand dollars reward for information leading to the finding of Lewis E. Larson, missing real estate operator and former secretary of the school board, was posted yesterday by the board of the First Methodist Episcopal church, with which he was connected.

Simultaneously an order from Chief of Police Fitzmorris assigned two policemen from each station in the city to aid in the search by checking every hospital, rooming house, and hotel in their respective districts.

Administration of the reward was delegated to George W. Dixon, president of the board, and Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the church.

Twenty-four of Mr. Larson's friends, led by L. E. Lehman, yesterday completed a check of nearly every hospital in Cook county. In automobiles the searchers toured the city personally, going through the wards of the hospitals. With the search party went Leonard Larson, 21 year old son, who returned from Dartmouth college to aid in the hunt.

Mr. Larson's friends have not lost hope despite the fact that it is six days since Dr. Josephine Gabler, the last person known to see him, spoke to him as he stood in a loop drug store taking a powder for a "frightful headache."

REFORESTRATION OF PRESERVES IN COUNTY PLANNED

Reforestation of Cook county's preserves will be begun on April 1, if the board of county commissioners authorizes the employment of 100 men to plant 100,000 trees which have been purchased, Chief Forester Ransom Kenney announced yesterday.

Trees will be planted in the preserves adjacent to South Chicago, Chicago Heights, Palos, Des Plaines, and Oak Creek, as the first step in the extensive reforestation campaign planned by the preserve authorities.

Walnut, hickory, elm, evergreen, pine, hard maple, mulberry, wild cherry, and mountain ash, the latter to attract birds, are among the trees now ready for planting and which will be equally distributed among the various districts.

Five Year Old Girl Receives $35,000 by Orson Smith Will

Five year old Anna Rice Donovan, 1616 Farragut avenue, Washington, D. C., will receive $35,000 from the $250,000 estate of Orson Smith, late chairman of the advisory committee of the Merchants Loan and Trust company, according to his will filed for probate yesterday.

The girl is a granddaughter of Heeter Nolan Donovan, a niece of Mr. Smith's late wife. Her mother is given $5,000. Together with four other nieces of Mr. Smith, the girl will receive $10,000 in cash immediately and one-third of the residue of the estate after numerous other bequests aggregating $175,000 have been paid.

Servant Is Given $2,000. Gifts of $10,000 to the Children's Memorial hospital and $1,000 to the Chicago Historical society are also included. The will directs the payment of a $2,000 legacy to Nellie Quigley, household servant in the family for many years.

Four other nieces who are given $10,000 outright are the Misses Gertrude Barber, Evanston, and Grace Crosby, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Eugene Moore, Oak Park; and Mrs. Mollie Dibble, 308 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park.

Among other relatives to share in the estate are Mrs. Helen Rice, 722 Roscoe street, who is given $10,000; Edward A. Smith and Mrs. Jessie Bulard, nephew and niece, respectively, of Highland Park, who are given $2,000 each; and Louis W. Grow, Glenview, and John O. Burber, Winnetka, nephews, who are given $5,000 each.

Half Million Worthless Paper. Nearly $500,000 in worthless securities is included in the estate of Mrs. Mary J. Hoxie, widow of John R. Hoxie, wealthy packer, according to an inventory of the property filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Harry Keats. Mrs. Hoxie's estate is valued at approximately $300,000, the report shows.

Mrs. Hoxie, who died on Dec. 17, maintained residences at Lake Forest and 4445 South Michigan avenue. At one time her husband's estate was valued at $6,000,000, but after his death it is said that Mrs. Hoxie was victimized by swindlers.

Stock of the Bradshaw Mountain Copper Mining and Smelting company of a par value of $49,000 is listed as worthless in the inventory. Mrs. Hoxie's attorneys were unable to discover whether their client had paid the full price for the stock.

In her will Mrs. Hoxie created a trust fund of the estate for the benefit of her son, John R. Hoxie Jr., a granddaughter, Kathryn Good, and a grandson, Gilbert H. Hoxie.

CHANCELLOR DAY STRUGGLES HARD WITH PNEUMONIA

Atlantic City, N. J., March 12.—Dr. James R. Day, former chancellor of Syracuse university, who is ill with pneumonia in his rooms at Craig hall here, has been unconscious for more than twelve hours, and physicians today said they held little hope of his recovery.

The physicians said that he regained consciousness for brief periods, during which he did not recognize them or any members of his family.

The physicians said Dr. Day was suffering from bronchial pneumonia, with heart complications. They declared that the aged educator's vitality had been the best ally of the physicians in their efforts to save him, but pointed out that he is 78 and that the disease has progressed so that medical aid appears to be of little value.

SEARCH 3 STATES FOR PRIEST; FOUL PLAY IS FEARED

St. Louis, Mo., March 12.—Police today continued their search for the Rev. John A. Vranick, Catholic priest of Virden, Ill., who has disappeared under mysterious circumstances since he visited this city on a business trip a week ago.

Detectives, who are conducting a widespread investigation, held to their theory that the clergyman, who was described by the Rev. E. L. Spalding, vicar general of the Alton diocese, as a "very excellent priest," fell a victim to foul play when returning to Virden late last Monday.

Search for the priest was extended through Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky, police in many cities having been furnished with descriptions and asked to search for him.

Rewards totaling $1,500 have been offered by Catholic residents of Virden for information leading to the clergyman's whereabouts, it was said.

Yellow Cab

Has Revolutionized the Cab Business

"Do you remember a way back"—8 years ago—when you wouldn't let your wives and children ride in a street cab unless you were along to protect them from probable insults?

—When you wouldn't ride in a cab yourself unless you had to, and when you did have to, you were assailed with so many funny smells that you begged your nose to lose its functioning power?

—When there were no meters on the cabs and you either had to pay the arbitrary and exorbitant charges or take a big chance in a scrap with a rough-neck driver?

It isn't that way now, is it? You enter a Yellow Cab with the utmost confidence, and your wife or your child can go anywhere day or night with the calm assurance that they will arrive in comfort and safety. The rates are the lowest in America and a fare register fixes your fare and hands you a printed receipt at the end of the ride.

This is all the result of the Decent Idea on which Yellow Cab was founded—the Idea to treat its employees so humanly and pay them so well that they would use all the brains and loyalty at their command to make this company go.

Today there are 1,800 clean, sanitary, perfectly built Yellow Cabs on the streets, and 3,500 of the finest, cleanest, most honest and accommodating men you ever know, driving them. We are giving them two-fifths of the profits. It isn't too much, is it, to pay for the best service in the world?

This could not have been accomplished if the hearts and minds of ninety-nine and nine-tenths of our employees had not been with us.

The Tax that Hurts

IN this week of income-tax reports, the price you pay for being governed comes home to roost on your own pocketbook.

Our taxes threaten our American standard of living—smother ambition—penalize the man who saves, and discourage the man who invests.

To make America a better place to live in, we must devise taxation that will encourage productive enterprise and take the wet blanket off brains and energy. In this week's Collier's, Irving T. Bush shows where your taxes go and the harm they do. Mr. Bush says:

"Our standard of living has been built up on investing about six billion dollars a year in new projects and equipment. We have not been able to make that investment for several years past. We cannot invest one-third less than we used to and keep on raising our standard of living.

"Unless we change our system of taxation the opportunities for your sons and mine are going to be less. We shall either smash up or shrivel up.

"If you have a boy and want to make a real man out of him, do you tell him you will take away half of what he saves? That is just what you are saying to the young men of America today. The more they make themselves a vital, constructive force in the country, the more you will tax them.

"The common sense of taxation, in a nutshell, is: put your taxes upon what people spend and not upon what they save."

America is—always has been—a country of opportunity. To preserve that opportunity for our sons, we must work together toward a new and better plan for organizing our great business of living together. Public opinion—your opinion—must do this. Collier's is helping, not by making up people's minds, but by shaking up people's minds—telling them not what to think, but what to think about.

The alert, substantial men and women who read Collier's look to it as the sound and lively core round which the public opinion of America can be moulded. These people useful and influential in their communities, provide the most responsive market an advertiser of good goods can reach.

CRUSHING FISTS OF FIRPO K. O. BRENNAN IN 12TH

FRIENDS CHEER FIRPO

BUENOS AIRES, March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—Buenos Aires went wild last night when the news was received that Luis Angel Firpo had knocked out Bill Brennan in his 12th round. The bulletin bearing tidings arrived in Buenos Aires only a few minutes after the bout ended. Thousands of persons immediately formed into processions and marched through the streets of the city, shouting deliriously, singing and hailing Firpo as the world's future champion.

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—Luis Firpo, the South American heavyweight, knocked out Bill Brennan of Chicago in the 12th round of a scheduled fifteen round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

A series of terrific right and left hand wallopings to the head and body of Brennan, and as the veteran tottered around trying to raise his hands to defend himself against Firpo's tremendous attack the latter unleashed a final right hand swing which landed flush on the former Chicagoan's chin.

Brennan fell as a pole hit—rigidly. Not a muscle quivered in his big frame as he lay face down on the canvas. The referee, John Appel, swung the count of ten over the unconscious batter, but that was a mere matter of form. Brennan was out for keeps, it was plain for all to see.

In Front Till the Twelfth. Carried to his corner, still unconscious, Brennan soon was revived. When Brennan took the first hard blow from Firpo in the hectic twelfth round he appeared to be out in front and was fighting a careful fight, evidently with the idea in mind of coping the decision on points. He had Firpo looking hard from a severe cut over the left eye which practically blinded the South American from the fifth round on.

Brennan kept pecking at the damaged eye, and alternated his attack by inflicting considerable body punishment, but Luis was too strong. When he found he couldn't reach Brennan at long range the South American tried tearing in, swinging his powerful arms at Brennan's body. When his punches landed they shook up Brennan, who did the surprising by standing up as long as he could.

Strong Man and Fierce Puncher. Firpo is far from being a finished fighter. He is just a strong man with a terrible punch. Against Brennan he showed to advantage because Bill could not hold off his punches. Firpo's defense was none too good. He would have been an easy mark for Dempsey's left. Brennan hit Firpo freely, stung him time and again with lefts to the face, but they did not appear to hurt.

The Buenos Aires batter's attack was feeble. He swung his arms as club swinger might, but he had no club. Brennan found it next to impossible to halt him when he went, bull-like, into an attack, ripping and tearing at his opponent with his giant strength. He awkwardly rushed and pounded Brennan down to defeat and there was no denying him when he saw he had the old trial horse of the ring on the run.

But in all fairness to Brennan, it must be said that he fought a good game fight against the younger, bigger, and stronger man, and he got a big cheer from the crowd when it was all over.

Joe Burman Earns Verdict Over Frankie Schaeffer

Joe Burman, local bantamweight, who will meet Joe Lynch, kingpin of the 118 pounds, at the Dexter Park pavilion on Monday night, last night defeated Frankie Schaeffer, south side 126 pounder, in the main event of the boxing show staged by the Wallace A. C. at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium.

It was an interesting contest all the way, with both boxers trying for a knock-out from the first tap of the bell. Schaeffer depended upon a right cross, while Burman sunk rights and lefts in Frankie's body and occasionally shot his right to the head. Burman forced the issue most of the way and had the better of the majority of the rounds.

Sixth Schaeffer's Round. In the sixth round Schaeffer had a decided advantage. He shot his right to the stomach and crossed the same hand to the jaw several times. He also had the best of the infighting. This was the only round in which Frankie had a decided advantage.

They weighed 126 pounds at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At Zeimer, clever 122 pounder from Cleveland, who is being groomed by Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, engaged in a four round exhibition with Tommy McLoughlin, his sparring partner. They used large gloves and the champion was given a great hand at the end of the exhibition.

A capacity crowd of about 3,500 flocked to the show. Receipts were about $7,500.

Take Your Pick of Four A1 Cards to Be Staged at the Yards on March 19

One of the greatest boxing shows ever held in Chicago will be staged by Blackhawk post of the American Legion at Dexter Park pavilion on March 19 when some of the greatest boxers of their weight in the country will appear in ten round contests.

The complete card was arranged yesterday by Capt. Russell, commander of the post, and Jim Muller, who ever is willing to lend a helping hand in affairs for charity. The matchmakers met with one disappointment and that concerned Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion, who is ill in bed with the flu.

Members of the Blackhawk post are so enthusiastic over the show that each has agreed to dispose of his quota of tickets, thereby assuring a complete sellout before the doors are thrown open. The show will be held in the stockyards at 138 pounds. Tickets will be placed on sale today at the usual places and Packey McFarland, Bennie Yanger, Dave Miller, and Dave Barry will be the referees.

Draw for Order of Bouts. The card will include four ten round bouts and an eight session preliminary. With the exception of the opener, principals will draw to determine which bout will be the final, and the order in which the others will be staged. As many referees will be chosen and they will draw to see which bout they handle.

The card will be featured by the bout between Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, and Joe Burman of Chicago. This is a match any promoter would be glad to handle. Burman's record entitles him to a shot at the title, but the only way he will be able to wrest the championship from his opponent March 19 is by a knockout or foul. Lynch and Burman have agreed to scale 118 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the contest.

GARDINI HOPES FOR LEWIS BOUT

Renato Gardini has not yet set his name to articles of agreement for his proposed match contest with Stanislas Zhyzsko at the Coliseum on April 3. The Italian card says he wants to exhaust every possible means to induce Champion Ed Lewis to make good his promise to give him (Gardini) a chance at the crown, if victor over the Pole.

Midwest A. C. officials announce they will give the Italian until Thursday to reach a decision or rather some sort of understanding with Lewis.

Chicago fans will be treated to the comic sight of a pygmy and a giant in combat at the Star and Garter Friday night when Jim Londas, 195, meets Gobar, the Hindu, who weighs 235. Londas will rely on speed and science to offset his opponent's strength and endurance. In addition to the main feature, Manager Moeller will add another attraction in a 20 minute limit bout. This will be a tryout for a newcomer to local mat activities, in the person of Dan Koloff.

COL. HAMMOND'S LADS IN TRIBUNE'S BOUTS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Col. Tom Hammond of the 124th field artillery is a strong booster for the Chicago amateur boxing championships to be conducted by the Tribune A. A. at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium on March 21, 22, 23, 24, and 25. So enthusiastic is the colonel over amateur boxing as a means of fitting young men for the service that his outfit will be represented in the tourney.

Col. Hammond will have nearly a dozen men to represent the 124th field artillery in the tourney.

Col. Hammond is a member of the Hyde Park High school eleven of the early 1900s. He afterward went to Michigan, where he played under Vladimir H. Yost for four years. He still is considered by "Hurry Up" to be one of the greatest players who ever wore the maize and blue.

Instills Preparedness. During the world war Col. Hammond was connected with the 149th field artillery, which distinguished itself so honorably. During the time he was in service Col. Hammond realized the great good which boxing did in the upbringing of the American army and is now trying to instill the same kind of preparedness in the 124th field artillery by having his men take part in boxing contests.

When such persons as Col. Tom Hammond, who know from experience what boxing can do for the youth of the country, believe in amateur contests, it is little wonder that more than 200 entries have been received for the Tribune A. A. tourney.

Carr's Finals Tonight. In order to have his gymnasium represented by the best boxers, Howard Carr will hold final bouts for his pupils at his gym, 32 South Clark street, tonight. Carr had a team in the middle state championship of the A. A. U. at Gary, Ind., last week, and his boys finished third. Honors went to the Gary Y. M. C. A. while the Hoosier A. C. of Indianapolis was second.

Plans for staging the tournament are progressing favorably. So many details must be arranged for comfort of contestants and spectators that nothing will be overlooked to stage the contests in bang-up fashion. Prices of admission will be within reach of all, and so much interest is being played that it is a pity a larger building is not available. In another year efforts will be made to secure the Coliseum, where two rings can be erected and all who care to see amateur boxing can be accommodated.

Entries Close Tomorrow. Entries close at midnight. None will be accepted after this date and the complete list of nominations, together with their classes and organizations, will be published in the Tribune on Sunday's issue of THE TRIBUNE. An entry blank appears on the sports pages for those who desire to enter.

Baseball Fight Brewing as Moguls Row on Benton Status

New York, March 12.—[United Press.]—Disagreement between Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis and President Heydler of the National League on the J. C. [Rube] Benton case may bring out a situation that will be a real one.

Landis ruled that Benton was good enough to pitch for the Cincinnati Reds if he was good enough to pitch in the American association on moral grounds. Heydler ordered the Reds not to put Benton on the payroll, and said the former Giant southpaw could not come back to his league.

The attitude of the National League president in this instance appears as inconsistent as it was in 1917, when the Herzig-Benton case first was brought to his attention. Both players made charges against each other and he permitted them to remain in baseball for their natural period of usefulness and now, six years later, he raises objection to the return of Benton for reasons that existed for three years while Benton was pitching for the New York Giants.

Benton-Herzog Row. Benton claimed in 1917 that Herzog made him an offer to throw a game and that he laughed off and told Art Fletcher, captain of the Giants, about it. Benton pitched the game in question and won it. Heydler brought the pair before him and they both questioned the veracity of each other.

Herzog claims Benton was "out to get him" because of some trouble they had when Herzog was managing the Cincinnati Reds and Benton was pitching for him. Herzog said he fired Benton for breaking the training rules, and that Benton said at the time that he

EYEFUL OF CHEER FOR RETURNING CUB PILOT

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal., March 12.—[Special.]—With Manager

Killefer back on the job after an absence of ten days, the Cubs resumed training at their island camp this afternoon. A ball game was not attempted, but the boys inhaled a skunkful of the regulation batting and fielding practice, tapering off with the customary climb over Wrigley's mountain.

On the trip over from Los Angeles this morning Killefer listened to Coach Duguey's report of what has developed around here. It was all good news to the anxious ear of the manager, who has been bidding for what has developed out of his experiment with two new cubs in the infield.

Duguey assured him that as far as this morning's report was concerned, both Grantham and Friberg would measure up to the positions allotted them.

Grishy May Make Good. Duguey also displayed signs of enthusiasm over Denver Grishy, the young outfielder, who arrived at the club camp this morning. He had made his debut in the outfield yesterday, and he is fast on his pins and can throw.

Whether he will ripen to big league timber immediately is a question, but there is one certainty, and that is that the club can use him or any other youngster who can make the grade.

The outfielding situation of the club offers a great opportunity to the lads who are bidding for recognition. There are four of them here striving to get somewhere, and two have a chance to be retained. There even is a possibility that one or another can cop the left field berth now held by the ponderous Hack Miller. The strong man is only an ordinary player, who hits in streaks. He has to be taken out every so often and rested until he recovers his batting lamp. Any of the rookies in camp can out field him without extending themselves.

Handle Batted Balls. In the practice this afternoon Killefer gave his new infield a long drill on the handling of batted balls. It didn't take the boy manager long to see that both Friberg and Grantham have learned a lot since he saw them last. The surprising part about the pair is that in the two games at Los Angeles they showed more finish on defense than they had in their practice work here. Usually a youngster does the opposite.

John Heydler, president of the National League, came over to the island today as the guest of William Wrigley. He watched the practice, then went fishing for mackerel, which right now are so plentiful that they grab the hooks right out of your hands.

NO-PAR STOCKS UP FOR ARGUMENT IN RAIL MERGERS

BY SCRUTATOR.

Revival of interest in proposals for consolidation of railroad systems which has followed the announcement and criticism of President Hale Holden's plan for western rail combinations, has brought to it renewed discussion of railroad financing.

The subject of no par value stocks in rail financing plans will again be heard from. Advocates of this type of security believe that no par value certificates of participation would be of value in rail consolidation. They have back of them the opinion of the railroad securities commission as expressed in its report to Congress in 1911. That body headed by President A. T. Hadley of Yale, and comprising in its membership such men as Walter L. Fisher, Baltimore, Md., now chairman of the interstate commerce commission; Frederick Strauss, banker, and Frederick Johnson, lawyer, devoted considerable attention to the availability of no par value stocks for railroad financing.

They expressed the opinion that the issue of that type of stock would facilitate consolidation, especially in cases where the securities of one line were of much greater actual value than the stocks of another. They declared they believed that, in such mergers, the issue of no par value stocks in lieu of the prior securities of the original corporations, would mitigate friction and suspicion of undue advantage. The commission also favored securities similar to the Great Northern certificates for new rail financing, and declared that they would not hesitate to recommend both national and state laws to authorize the issue of such securities, and to permit the conversion of existing securities into the new form.

It is believed that the interstate commerce commission, under the Enoch-Cummings law, has authority to authorize such stock issues without additional legislation.

However, some railroad men say that no par value stocks would not aid consolidation operations. They view them as mere bookkeeping variants. The dollar mark and Arabic figures on existing stock certificates mean nothing now, and never were of any moment outside the engraving shop, they declare. They were sold and bought with the full understanding that they represented shares in a business, not a sum of money, they say. These men deprecate any discussion of new forms of stock as tending to distract attention from the realities of rail finance, which are becoming poignant. However, in the recent reorganization of the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas railroad $100,000 no par value shares of stock were issued.

The real problem, they declare, is the imperative necessity of raising new capital by some other means than mortgages and bond issues thereon. The limit of bonding is near at hand, unless new equities for the stockholders can be created by the opportunity to earn substantial returns on the stock, they assert. In 1922 the total of railroad financing was $651,531,000, of which only $15,985,000 was raised by the sale of stock. This is a climax of a long period of financing in which many railroads have practically been pawned. Big rail systems have been compelled to buy engines and cars by issuing equipment bonds. This sort of thing is exactly what an impetuous young married couple are compelled to do, when they buy their household gear on the installment plan, plastered with chattel mortgages, invisible to guests perhaps, but painfully present every day. For youth such measures are often feasible, but the railroads are adults, some of them appear to be senescent. They have a flock of several million kids to feed.

The impossibility of financing railroads by more mortgages was strongly put by Jerome J. Hanauer of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in testimony before the interstate commerce commission. He said: "To all intents and purposes, the mortgage is a thing of the past. The large additional amounts required hereafter must be raised by junior securities. In some quarters it seems to be expected that railroad companies can go on increasing their debt forever, without increasing the equity behind it. Yet how generally it is understood that little encouragement would be given to the owner of a house or factory by the holder of its mortgage, if he suggested that the mortgagee should increase his loan for the purpose of making additions and im-

Fundamentals

Analysis, whether it be of a chemical compound, a mathematical problem, or an industrial plant, consists in a reduction to the basic elements.

All property is composed of labor, lumber, brick, steel and a few other fundamental commodities. Arranged in one way they become a packing plant, in another a saw mill or a steamship or a steel foundry.

The scientific skill of the appraisal organization lies in its ability to establish, classify, and accurately value these basic elements. During the last generation, billions of dollars worth of property have passed through the value-testing laboratories of The American Appraisal Company.

B. Benjamin, president of the company, says: "The year 1923 has opened up very lively and unless a reaction sets in later in the year or we run into another period of depression or inflation, it would seem safe to say that the results for this year will compare favorably with 1922."

D. B. Benjamin, president of the company, states: "The year 1923 has opened up very actively and unless a reaction sets in later in the year or we run into another period of congestion or inflation, it would seem safe to feel that the results for this year will compare favorably with 1922."

Improvements, without the owner establishing an additional equity by providing, say one-third of the new money required.

This banker's opinion is precisely that of the congressional joint commission on agricultural inquiry, headed by representative Sydney C. Anderson of Minnesota, and composed mostly of men from farming districts or states. After recounting the figures which show that the ratio of railroad debt to total capital is now 56.1-bonds totaling $11,285,201,395, and stocks only $8,894,496,969 in 1920, the commission said:

"When the investor thinks that too large a percentage of the value of the property is represented by debt and not enough by stock, he will decline to buy further bonds of that company, or if he takes them, it will only be at an unduly high interest rate. It is important therefore, that railroad credit should be so strengthened as to enable a properly capitalized, well managed company with adequate traffic to do its financing through issues of stock. Stock helps junior to debt, and having no lien on the property or equipment, naturally must bring a larger return in order to be attractive."

Monday's receipts of hogs, totaling among the largest on record for any day in March at 72,000, resulted in an early drop of 15¢ to 20¢ on the first round of trading. Part of the decline was regained later, with general average prices figuring 15¢ off at $8. Top lowered 20¢ under Saturday's extreme high point at $8.45. Local packers received about 10,000 of the receipts direct from outside markets. Eastern orders were liberal, outsiders absorbing 15,000. About 16,000 remained unsold, being mostly late arrivals, which were delayed by severe storms. Closing trade was highest point of the day, local demand favoring weighty hogs.

On a comparatively small Monday supply of cattle, values strengthened, reflecting an advance of 10¢, as compared with late last week. Offerings of beef cattle selling from $10.00 to $12.00 in many cases showed 50¢ to $1.00 advance over previous week's extreme low point. Range of prices for best steers was narrowest in several months, bulk selling within a $1.75 "spread," at $8.00 to $9.75, against $7.00 to $7.50 previous Monday. Top reached $10.00, yearlings and steers both commanding the latter figure, which stands lowest top for initial day of any week since July. Other classes ruled about 25¢ higher, heifers showing the most strength.

Lamb Market Reacts.

Last week's strength was lost on yesterday's dull $6.25 lower lamb trade. Bulk woolled lambs brought $14.00 to $14.75, with top stopping at $15.15. Recent clipped lambs moved at $11.75 to $12.00, and fall shorn at $12.75. Eastern demand was small and local orders limited, resulting in an "all day" session. Aged ewes held up fairly good, best bringing $8.60, while aged wethers reached $9.50. 2-year olds, $10.75, and yearlings, $13.40. Clipped wethers cashed at $7.35 and yearlings at $9.50. Colorado and Nebraska lambs formed bulk of the offerings. Four loads of 67 lb shearing lambs brought $15.00.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 40,000 hogs, and 17,000 sheep, against 12,151 cattle, 35,351 hogs, and 16,326 sheep, the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

HARRIS TRUST &amp; SAVINGS BANK, CHICAGO, TRUSTEE

Mr. James E. MacMurray, Chairman of the Board of Directors, of the Acme Steel Goods Company, summarizes from his letter to us as follows:

BUSINESS: Acme Steel Goods Company has been successfully engaged in the manufacture of hoop steel, light strip steel and packing room supplies since 1880. Its modern plants at Chicago and Riverdale, Illinois, have a capacity of over 375 tons a day of hoop and strip steel. The Company is one of the largest manufacturers in its line in the country, and its products are favorably known and widely used throughout the world.

SECURITY: These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all the fixed assets now owned or hereafter acquired by the Company, including lands in fee, buildings, equipment and machinery. The Company has no other funded debt.

Land, plant and equipment, less depreciation, as shown by appraisal of the American Appraisal Company, dated February 1, 1923, is valued at $2,937,705. Net current assets, as certified by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, after giving effect to the proposed financing amount to over 126% of the amount of these bonds. Total net assets, after deducting all indebtedness other than these bonds and exclusive of good-will, amount to $5,069,385.95, or $3,379 for each $1,000 bond.

MORTGAGE: The mortgage will provide that no cash dividends shall be paid on the common stock of the company except out of earnings subsequent to January 1, 1923, and in no event when such action will reduce current assets below twice current liabilities, and that no additions to fixed assets shall be made which will reduce current assets below two and one-half times current liabilities. Additional bonds may only be issued to the extent of 60% of the cash cost or replacement value (whichever is lower) of additional property and permanent improvements, and then only if net earnings for two years preceding date of proposed issue average at least three times total annual interest charges on all bonds outstanding, including proposed additional issue.

EARNINGS: During the ten years ended December 31, 1922, net income available for interest and Federal Taxes, after deducting depreciation and inventory adjustments, averaged approximately 4 times the annual interest charges on these bonds. For the year ended December 31, 1922, net income, computed on the same basis, was $483,009, or more than 5.36 times such interest charges. The company has shown a profit in every year since its inception. Current operations are showing a profit in excess of the 1922 figures.

SINKING FUND: Semi-annual Sinking Fund will retire 68% of this issue of bonds before maturity.

Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel. All legal matters will be passed upon by Messrs. Butler, Lamb, Foster & Pope for the Bankers, and Messrs. Chapman, Cutler & Parker for the Company.

It is expected that delivery of bonds in temporary form will be made on or about March 20, 1923.

The Leader

IN every age—in every field of human endeavor—there have been leaders who showed the way to progress—success—victory. Their statues stand in our museums. Their names are household words.

Just as these leaders of the past are always associated in the public mind with great achievements, great institutions or great ideas they have sponsored, so S. W. Straus & Co. has always been recognized as leader in that important department of finance—first mortgage real estate bonds.

S. W. Straus & Co. was the first Real Estate Bond House to operate on a national scale. We have financed the erection of thousands of buildings, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, in all the principal cities of the country.

In New York and in San Francisco—from the Atlantic to the Pacific—S. W. Straus & Co. dominate in their field.

This House was the first to develop the distribution of real estate mortgage bonds on a nation-wide scale; and the Straus Plan of safeguards has established the standard by which other real estate investments are judged.

Today it is everywhere recognized that the best real estate bonds are STRAUS BONDS, backed by the STRAUS PLAN, and its record of 41 years without loss or delay in payment to any investor.
